Economy Bloc Faces Setback In Approval of Farm Fund Bill

Little Opposition to Larger Appropriation Is Seen

BALLOT TODAY

Principal Fight in Upper House Centers on 'Parity' Plan

Washington —(P)—The congressional economy drive was headed for its biggest setback of the year today as the senate prepared to boost farm appropriations toward the billion-dollar mark.

With a final vote expected before midnight, little opposition developed to committee recommendations which would authorize $222,864,668 for agriculture department expenses and farm subsidies in the year starting July 1.

The committee total was $208,968,584 higher than the house-approved figure and $201,940,049 greater than the president's budget. The principal senate fight was over a proposal to add $212,000,000 for a "parity" fund designed to raise farmers' purchasing power to the 1909-14 level. The house did not consider that subject, but farm leaders believe it will accept the senate's decision.

Earlier Cuts
Until the senate appropriations committee increased the agriculture bill, appropriations for various departments had been slashed by congress about $303,000,000 below the president's estimates. Approval of the bigger farm outlays would offset the bulk of these savings.

Early in this session, Mr. Roosevelt recommended that congress enact $450,000,000 of new taxes to finance "emergency" defense outlays. Most of the reductions made in his appropriation requests reflected the desire of congress to avoid, in an election year, imposing these taxes or raising the present $450,000,000 limit on the public debt.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) told the senate today that the president, although he did not ask for "parity" payments to farmers when he submitted his budget, had recognized that congress might have to make provision for such expenditures.

Bankhead urged that the senate approve the action of its appropriations committee in adding $212,000,000 to the agriculture bill.

Cites Budget Message
The Alabama senator said the president's views had been made known in his January budget message, and that while he had made no provision for "parity" payments, such outlays might be found to be necessary if farm prices did not advance as expected.

While the senate debate proceeded, there came word from the treasury that income tax collections ran 26 per cent ahead of last year in the first 16 days of March.

Collections for the 16 days this year were $319,000,247, as compared with $259,038,051 in 1939.

Secretary Morgenthau, testifying at a hearing of the senate banking committee, expressed opposition to termination of the treasury's authority to purchase foreign silver.

Swallows Keep Their Annual Rendezvous At Historic Mission

San Juan Capistrano, Calif. —(P)—The swallows of San Juan kept their age-old rendezvous beneath the eaves of historic mission San Juan Capistrano today.

They began arriving out of a murky sky from the south around 6:30 a. m. and within a few minutes were waging their annual warfare with the swifts which had moved into their quarters since their departure last St. John's day.

Oct. 23, as usual, the swallows were victorious, and soon they were settling themselves for their summer's stay.

For a century, tradition has held that the swallows have left the adobe walls of the mission, founded in 1776 by the Order of St. Francis, annually on the feast day of its patron saint, and have returned on St. Joseph's day, March 19.

COUNTY CITIZENSHIP PROGRAM OUTLINED AT "GOOD-WILL" INSTITUTE

Municipal legislative officials of Outagamie county were urged to cooperate in the county citizenship day program at a "good-will" dinner meeting and institute last night at the Appleton Senior High school. Objectives of the program, which will be climaxed with an induction ceremony for all 21-year-olds in the county May 19, were outlined and talks on citizenship given. Shown in the picture are: left to right, Supervisor George Schaefer, Greenville, who spoke on "The Every Day Citizen," County Clerk John E. Hantschel, who read a speech by Senator Mike Mack, who was unable to attend; Henry J. Van Straten, county superintendent of schools and secretary of the citizenship program; Ben J. Rohan, city superintendent of schools and chairman of the program; Mayor John Goodland, Jr.; H. H. Helbie, principal of Appleton High school; and Donald DuShane, Lawrence college instructor, who spoke on "Good Citizenship." (Post-Crescent Photo)

275 Hear County Citizenship Day Program Outlined

Legislative Officials are Asked to Lend Support to Plan

About 275 legislative representatives of Outagamie county towns, villages and cities and citizenship instructors gathered at a "good-will" institute last night and heard the county citizenship program outlined and the value of citizenship stressed. The meeting was preceded by a dinner.

The cooperation of the municipal officials in the county in making the program a success was asked by Henry J. Van Straten, county superintendent of schools and secretary of the citizenship program, who explained the plan.

The county has been divided into 15 units with a leader for each, he said. The leaders have selected citizenship instructors and a series of instruction institutes are being held. One of the meetings followed the general session last night. The instructors will be in charge of four class meetings in the various units of all 21-year-olds in the county. The municipal officials were urged to contact all new citizens in their units of government and to stress the importance of their attendance at these meetings which are scheduled for April 8, 15 and 29 and May 6.

An induction day ceremony at the high school on Sunday, May 19, will turn to page 12 col. 4.

8 Persons Injured When Hotel Burns

At Least Score Forced to Flee Minnesota Fire In Night Clothing

Tracy, Minn. —(P)—Eight persons were injured, three seriously, and more than a score of others were driven to the street in night attire when fire broke out in the Tracy hotel here early this morning.

Breaking out shortly before 4 o'clock a. m., the flames raced swiftly through the three-story, 60-room structure, and had gained good headway before the fire department could reach the scene.

Nearly buildings in the downtown section were threatened by the flames, which were fought by apparatus from Marshall, Walnut Grove and Balaton in addition to the local department.

Reported most seriously injured were Mrs. A. T. Britton, Sandusky, O., and H. H. Robinson, Minneapolis. Mrs. Britton leaped from a third-story window and Robinson suffered severe burns on his back.

Found Unharmed
Jack Kerns, 55, of Eau Claire, Wis., who first was reported missing, later was located, unharmed.

Mrs. Britton suffered serious back, leg and other injuries in her jump from the third floor as a ladder was being raised to reach her.

Another man was seriously injured when he jumped from the third floor and a guest who fled through a street exit was hurt when another jumped or fell on him from an upper floor.

Loss from the fire, which destroyed the building, was estimated at $60,000.

Finnish Delegation Arrives at Moscow

Moscow —(P)—A Finnish delegation bringing Finland's ratification of the Finnish-Russian peace treaty arrived by plane today from Stockholm.

Headed by Juho Paasikivi, Finland's negotiator, the delegates were greeted by the foreign office chief of protocol, the chief of the Baltic affairs department, and the Swedish military attaché.

It was believed they would confer tonight at the Kremlin. Russia has not yet ratified the treaty giving important territorial and economic concessions to the Soviet Union.

House Committee in Favor Of Increasing Labor Board From Three to Five Members

Washington —(P)—The house labor committee voted 14 to 3 today to recommend to congress that the national labor relations board be increased from three to five members.

Chairman Norton (D-N.Y.) announced the decision at the end of a two-hour closed committee meeting. She said it was decided "by a close vote" to reject proposals to abolish the present board and create a new one.

Committee members, studying the Wagner labor act section by section, decided against any changes in the declaration of policy which had been recommended by the special house committee investigating the act and the board.

New Board Plan Beaten
It was learned later that the proposal to abolish the existing board in favor of a new one of five members lost in the Norton committee by a vote of 9 to 8. Such a proposal had won the favor of the investigating committee, headed by Representative Smith (D-Va.), in its recommendations for sweeping changes in the board's makeup and procedure.

Discussing the increase in the board membership, Mrs. Norton said: "This step seems absolutely necessary."

"A great many people take the position that if two more members were added to the board, a lot of other complaints would go out the window. That seems to be where they all start."

"Apparently there has been more or less of a deadlock in the board and by adding two members, we certainly would destroy the effect of that, if there is such a thing."

Find Body of Church Janitor in Furnace: Think He Killed Self

Sheboygan —(P)—Police early today found the charred body of Ray Colbath in the furnace of the First Congregational church where he was employed as a janitor.

Despite the unusual circumstance of his death, Police Chief Walter H. Wagner said suicide was indicated. Only his legs, which dangled outside the furnace door, were not burned.

Erwin A. Schiele, a brother-in-law with whom Colbath had lived for six years, went to the church looking for him when he failed to return home. Through a window he saw the legs of a man in the furnace door. He called police and they entered to find Colbath's body.

Tests were made to try to determine whether carbon monoxide had entered the blood stream before Colbath's death. If he were alive when he entered the furnace, Coroner Wesley van Zanten said, he would have breathed the gas. If he were slain and placed in the furnace, no trace of gas would be found.

At Least Three Killed In Baton Rouge Blast

Baton Rouge, La. —(P)—At least three persons were killed and six injured today by a terrific explosion at the Ethyl-DuPont gasoline compound manufacturing plant here.

The blast shook Louisiana's skyscraper statehouse and the surrounding countryside.

Two Large British Liners Prepare to Carry Troops To European War Districts

New York —(P)—Two huge ocean liners, peacetime giants of the British merchant marine, swarmed today with new crews ready to man them for the business of carrying soldiers to Europe's war.

Their skeleton crews replenished by 770 new men, the 31,000-ton Queen Mary and the 35,000-ton Mauretania were ready to slip out of their wartime haven with any tide to transport either Australian or Canadian troops to the war zone.

Arriving in New York harbor unheralded yesterday, the Cunard White Star liner Antonia docked beside the Mauretania and soon 300 of the new men went aboard her.

A short time later the balance of the new complement went by bus to the Queen Mary to join the 110 already there.

Cunard White Star officials, holding to a policy of wartime secrecy, declined to indicate what might fol-

Heil Announces He Will be Candidate For Governorship

Makes Informal Statement At His Offices in Madison

Madison —(P)—Governor Julius P. Heil announced definitely today he would be a candidate for reelection on the Republican ticket.

The chief executive made an informal statement at his offices in the capitol which carried the word that most Wisconsin Republicans were expecting.

The governor had indicated strongly on several previous occasions he would run for a second term but until now had always qualified his statements with the comment he was not sure.

On one occasion he said he would be guided in his decision by the state of Mrs. Heil's health. She had been ailing but was reported improved after an extended winter vacation in Florida.

The governor said he had received numerous appeals from Republicans that he be a candidate for reelection.

Rumored for Senate
Political observers have been speculating for several months on a possibility that Heil might forego the opportunity for another term.

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Jr. Is Injured in Accident

Charlottesville, Va. —(P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., wife of the president's son, suffered a fractured pelvis and brain concussion in a fall from a horse while riding with the Farmington hunt near here today.

An attending physician at University hospital, where Mrs. Roosevelt was brought for treatment, said her condition was satisfactory.

The accident occurred as Mrs. Roosevelt attempted to take her mount over a picket fence at "Highlands," the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Funsten. The horse fell on the rider. She was rendered unconscious.

Young Roosevelt was attending classes at the University of Virginia Law school when he was informed of the accident. His wife is the former Ethel Du Pont.

Sentenced to Prison For Strangling His Son

Media, Pa. —(P)—William J. Larkin, 35-year-old ship yard worker, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter today and sentenced to six to twelve years' imprisonment for strangling his 20-month-old son.

He also was fined $6,000 and prosecution costs.

Police had quoted Larkin as saying he killed his son Feb. 25 to "spite" his estranged wife and prevent her from taking the child away.

Two Large British Liners Prepare to Carry Troops To European War Districts

Low, but it was pointed out in Washington that only routine clearance would be required for sailings of either ship.

It seemed apparent every effort was being made to prepare the Queen Mary for an early departure. She was given a new coat of admiralty gray, and a dredge cleared away mud which had gathered about her hull since she was laid up at the start of the war.

Likewise, there was evidence the Mauretania might leave shortly, for she was being loaded with cargo, presumably provisions for a voyage.

Since the Queen Mary is too large to pass through the Panama canal, she would necessarily have to circle either Cape Horn or the Cape of Good Hope if destined to carry Anzacs (Australian troops). The Mauretania could make the canal crossing.

Rome and Berlin Reports on Hitler and Mussolini Talk Differ on Some Major Points

Rome —(P)—What Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini talked about at Brenner pass was Europe's number one puzzle today.

Somewhat divergent accounts came from Rome and Berlin, while in London and Paris, the allied governments faced angry questioning about their conduct of the war on both diplomatic and military fronts.

Germany indicated that she expected a "new order" to emerge in Europe from extension of the Rome-Berlin axis to Moscow, but spoke again of determination "to end this war victoriously."

German comment mentioned a possible Italian-Russian rapprochement, probably entailing some agreement over Balkan affairs, as a means for paving the way to extending the axis.

Rome, in discussing the historic Brenner pass meeting, also touched on the possibility of "neutralizing" Germany's Balkan flank, a project which must take Russia into prime consideration.

Such a step would be aimed at heading off allied control in south-east Europe and assuring Germany a source of supply, principally from Rumania.

Foreign Minister Ciano's Leghorn newspaper provided the closest to an authoritative Italian account of the meeting, largely in negative terms.

The paper denied the meeting meant a change in Italy's non-belligerent status or that it was linked Turn to page 2 col. 2

Man Seriously Injured, Robbed Of $2; Pair Pleads Guilty of Assault With Dangerous Weapon

Waupaca —(P)—Harland Stephenson, 28, and Barney Gurholt, 32, town of Scandinavia, pleaded guilty at assaul with a dangerous weapon with intent to rob when they appeared before Justice of the Peace S. W. Johnson yesterday afternoon. The two men were bound over to circuit court for sentence and are being held at the county jail in lieu of bail of $5,000 each.

Albert Jones, 57, Iola, is in a serious condition at an Iola hospital with a head injury suffered when he allegedly was struck on the head with an automobile crank while Stephenson and Gurholt attempted to rob him.

According to Undersheriff W. L. Jones, who made the arrests, Sunday night the trio was in Waupaca Friday night. Albert Jones asking a ride as far as Scandinavia with Stephenson and Gurholt. Just before reaching Scandinavia the trio was taken on Jones' place and he was thrown unconscious into a snow drift. Later he was able to reach the farm home of Herbert Joergens who took him to the hospital.

Jones was asked to look whether the car had a flat tire when he was struck, according to police, and the robbers got $2 from him.

Two Oshkosh Men Die of Gas Fumes

WPA Worker and Father-in-Law Victims: Two Others Escape

Oshkosh —(P)—A WPA worker and his aged father-in-law were killed by gas fumes from a coal heater at their home here yesterday. Two other members of the family escaped.

The dead were Robert Sawall, 63, and his son-in-law, Albert Lasley, 61.

Lasley's daughter, Doris, 17, who recently suffered a fractured ankle in an automobile accident, managed to hobble to a door late yesterday afternoon and give an alarm.

Police men revived her mother, Mrs. Anna Lasley, 56, with an inhalator.

Dr. G. A. Steele Winnebago county coroner, said that the daughter told him she had noticed Sunday night that something was wrong with the heater, but that the family paid no attention to her warning.

Roosevelt Still Has Touch of Fever but Holds Conferences

Washington —(P)—President Roosevelt still had a slight touch of fever today, but he decided to resume work at his office on a limited schedule, including a discussion of budgetary and appropriation problems with Budget Director Harold Smith.

White House officials said the chief executive, suffering with a cold for a week, had a temperature of 99.2 degrees, a little more than half a degree above normal, this morning. That was two-tenths of a degree lower than yesterday, however.

Budget Director Smith, the White House said, arranged to take up questions resulting from congressional action on appropriations.

Mr. Roosevelt also agreed to receive today Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, Secretary Ickes, Secretary Morgenthau and the press.

White House officials said they doubted that Mr. Roosevelt would spend Easter Sunday at his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., but he was said to be counting on a trip to Warm Springs, Ga., in early April.

Allies Will Meet Any Move of Axis, He Asserts

FACES CRITICS
Believes Finn Peace Terms Endanger Sweden and Norway

BULLETIN
Rome —(P)—Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles disclosed tonight that no peace plan or mediation proposals had been offered him by any belligerent or other European government during his fact-finding conversations on behalf of President Roosevelt.

BULLETIN
London —(P)—The air ministry announced today that Royal Air Force planes attacked and severely bombed the German North sea air base at Hornum on the Island of Sylt tonight.

London —(P)—Vowing to fight on for a "moral peace," Prime Minister Chamberlain today proclaimed the allies' readiness for anything the axis powers are prepared to defend his course in the Finnish war and warned Norway and Sweden they are in grave danger.

A packed house of commons heard the grizzled prime minister make these statements in a sweeping resume of British policy. He termed the German air raid on Scapa Flow Saturday a failure and declared "the time and place for us to strike" must be decided by experts.

Chamberlain compared Britain's aims with the "moral peace" outlined Saturday by President Roosevelt.

"We intend to fight until it has been secured," he said.

His speech, one of the longest war reviews he has made, contained these salient points:

Data for Welles
1. The allies are ready and watchful for anything which might evolve from the Hitler-Mussolini meeting at Brenner pass.

2. Sumner Welles, gathering information for President Roosevelt, had a chance to see the allies' "unity of purpose."

3. The Finnish-Russian peace terms brought danger to the very "doorstep" of Sweden and Norway.

4. Before the northern war ended the allies were preparing 100,000 men to help the Finns as well as their Scandinavian neighbors who were threatened with German attack if they allowed passage of foreign troops.

5. Only one warship was damaged in the Scapa Flow raid Saturday; all battleships and battle cruisers came through unscathed.

The government's policy was attacked after Chamberlain spoke, by the two opposition leaders, Liberal Sir Archibald Sinclair and Laborite Clement Attlee, and by Leslie Hore-Belisha, who was ousted as war minister in a cabinet shakeup on Jan. 5. All three scored the government for allowing Germany to keep the initiative in the war.

Chamberlain went before commons to answer a growing clamor that Great Britain "take off the kid gloves and fight Germany on every front."

Addressing a packed house of commons with a statement on the conduct of the war, Chamberlain called the German air raid on Scapa Flow Saturday a failure.

Chamberlain said that 121 high explosive bombs and 500 incendiary bombs were dropped on land in the Orkney islands over an area of 100 square miles.

Britain Is Ready
Only one British warship was damaged, Chamberlain said, and this damage was minor. No capital ships suffered any damage whatsoever, he said.

Whatever the outcome of the Hitler-Mussolini meeting, Chamberlain said, Britain is ready to meet it.

He said the government had been happy to welcome Sumner Welles, President Roosevelt's fact-finding emissary, and to inform him frankly of its views.

Believes Liberty And Safety at Stake In European Strife

Toronto —(P)—James H. R. Cromwell, United States minister to Canada, expressed belief today that "the life, liberty and the very safety" of neutrals was at stake in the European war and posed the question of what outlook faced the world if Germany won.

Cromwell asked what kind of rule was being applied in countries which had been placed under the German "Lebensraum" (living space) plan of extension. "Did the Austrians, Czechoslovaks or the Poles have a voice in the determination of their present form of government?" he asked.

Cromwell said that if the allies won the war he could see "no threat to the well-being, to the peace, or to the social and economic order of the neutral democracies, be they large or small."

Delegate Battle Growing Bitter As Primary Nears

Rival Campaigners Speeding Up Drive in Badger State

Milwaukee.—(P)—Campaigners for rival states of Republican and Democratic national convention delegates candidates shed kid gloves in favor of give and take tactics today as they appealed for votes in the April 2 primary.

Supporters of Democratic delegates endorsed by the state conference hammered at the Roosevelt-Farley ticket, claiming that Postmaster General Farley secretly is supporting Vice President Garner for the presidential nomination.

A spokesman for the Roosevelt-Farley candidates meanwhile raised a cry that "the interests" who "hate Roosevelt" have resorted to devious means.

While the Democrats were thus engaged, backers of Republican candidates pledged to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York, made much of a reported "stop-Dewey" movement in Wisconsin.

Leaders of the Vandenberg for President club nevertheless continued to express confidence that the Michigan senator would capture the state's delegation. Living in a neighborhood, Vandenberg is thoroughly familiar with problems of Wisconsin agriculture, industry and labor, they maintained.

Change Schedules
Officers of the Democratic Party Organization of Wisconsin, supporting one group of candidates pledged to President Roosevelt, revamped their speakers' itineraries and provided them with oratory based on the report that Farley is helping Garner.

"They will attempt to convince the electorate that sponsors of the Roosevelt-Farley group were insincere in placing the postmaster general's name alongside that of the president."

Dr. C. W. Henney, a Roosevelt-Farley candidate for delegate-at-large discussed the "hate Roosevelt" issue in a Madison radio address today.

"You know there are interests who will stop at nothing to destroy the Roosevelt-Farley ticket," he said. "They hate Roosevelt. They have had no success in open attacks because the people are not so easily deluded. Now they have resorted to devious means, especially in Wisconsin. That is why the eyes of the nation are on Wisconsin in this election. You find men saying loudly they are for Roosevelt, but when you dig down you find they have another candidate up their sleeve."

No Second Choice
"Remember that the Roosevelt-Farley delegates have no second choice. The Roosevelt-Farley delegates will work with the president and Mr. Farley to the very last. You do not need to fear that they will go to the convention and then in some smoke-filled hotel room seek to nominate another candidate."

Senator Ben C. Gettelman, a Dewey candidate for district delegate told a Milwaukee audience today:

"Michael G. Eberlein (Vandenberg delegate-at-large candidate) seems to be a self-appointed spokesman for this desperate last-minute stop-Dewey movement. Mr. Eberlein, who has been known in Wisconsin for many years as a reactionary in politics and who has lobbied against liberal legislation, suddenly shows great fluency, which, he generously asserts, is being exerted in behalf of Dewey. . . I want to say that that statement is absolutely false and Mr. Eberlein knows it."

Fred E. Schluter, chairman of the Vandenberg club of New Jersey, arrived last night to assist with the senator's campaign. He said easterners believe "the cards were stacked in Vandenberg's favor when it fell to Wisconsin's lot to be the first state in which there will be a clear-cut case of Vandenberg's strength."

"What for example would a New Yorker or a candidate from New York know about soil conservation, 'incentive payments' for growing products of which this nation has not enough, crop loans, farm chemurgy, and similar matter, of vital interest to not only Wisconsin farmers but to all others in Wisconsin who indirectly depend on agricultural prosperity for their own prosperity?" Schluter asked after mentioning that Vandenberg knows the problems of the middle West.

Schluter asserted that Vandenberg "naturally favors the successful conclusion" of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project.

Walworth Farmer Begins Fight to Regain Property

Ernest Kalb Appeals to U. S. Court Under Amended Farm Act

Milwaukee.—(P)—Ernest Kalb, Walworth county farmer, petitioned the federal court today for a three-year period to pay his debts and regain possession of the farm from which he was ousted after a fight with deputies four years ago.

Judge F. Ryan Duffy took the petition, filed under the amended Frazier-Lemke farm act, under advisement. Kalb is basing his latest court fight on a ruling of the United States supreme court last January which held that the filing of a farmer debtor's petition in the federal court deprived all other courts of jurisdiction.

Kalb purchased the farm from Henry Feuerstein in 1923, giving Feuerstein a $6,000 mortgage as a part of the deal. Kalb defaulted on the mortgage payment in 1933 and Feuerstein began foreclosure proceedings in the state courts. In 1935 the farm was sold at a sheriff's sale to Feuerstein for $8,000. Kalb attempted to halt the proceedings by filing a petition under the original Frazier-Lemke act but it was declared unconstitutional and his petition was dismissed. Later the act was amended and Kalb's petition was reinstated.

Sheriff George O'Brien went to the farm in March, 1936 to evict Kalb and the former met him with a shotgun in his hand. Kalb was disarmed after a brief fight in which clubs were swung.

Council for Kalb now contends that the supreme court of the United States had upheld their claim that Kalb was right in his original contention that the county court was without power to confirm the sheriff's sale of his farm while the petition was pending in the federal court.

"with any inter-continental mission"—Sumner Welles' visit to Europe. The paper also declared that no peace plans were elaborated.

This left economic and diplomatic cooperation as the most probable subject of discussion, though it was admittedly unclear whether the Brenner meeting would affect the course of war.

One element in the picture emerged with more clarity when a Vatican source disclosed that Germany and the Vatican are negotiating an agreement to safeguard Catholic rights in territories annexed by Germany.

Negotiations are underway in Berlin on such an agreement to cover Poland, Bohemia-Moravia and Austria. This provided a possible explanation of the surprising visit Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, paid the Vatican a week ago.

Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier hoped to smooth opposition criticism through parliamentary sessions devoted to explaining their conduct of the war and submitting to questioning.

Men Skilled in the Crafts Needed to Bolster Defenses

Assistant Secretary of War Talks at State Legion Meeting

Milwaukee.—(P)—Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war maintains that there is a need in the United States for skilled "mechanics in arms" to meet the requirements of modern warfare.

The former national commander of the American Legion, speaking before a statewide meeting of Wisconsin legionnaires, last night, deplored war but asked, "who in the world of today would be so bold as to say we may never fight again?"

Johnson had high praise for the records of Wisconsin divisions and individuals in the World war and said that should "the call ever come in our lifetime, I am confident that the present generation will meet its patriotic duty with the same fervor."

"But I do have some doubts," he added, "about their ability to meet the requirements of modern combat. The modern soldier must be not only a disciplined fighter but a skilled mechanic. Guns, tanks, planes and other numerous battle accessories today call for craftsmen skilled in handling machines, as well as fighters bred in discipline."

"Behind our planes, our tanks, our trucks and all of our modern, delicate engines of war is the manual dexterity of our industrial mechanic. For the production of our war equipment and our munitions in our civilian factories we must look to deft hands. Where and how are we going to obtain this skill?"

Lists Sources

The city of Milwaukee, Johnson said, has done "an admirable job" in developing skilled labor through its public vocational education. He listed as skilled labor sources, other than vocational schools, the following:

Apprenticeships, industrial "on the job" training for vocational students, and the training of skilled craftsmen to become supervisors and leaders.

"The spectre of an actual shortage of skilled labor in certain crafts and occupations has appeared," Johnson declared in urging a restoration of the spirit of the dignified labor.

"The future of America, in peace and in war, rests largely upon the courage, the character, the discipline, poise and the balance of the young men and women of America."

"We must have a combination of the power of self defense and a policy of peaceful arrangement of our affairs."

J. Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce, urged greater national preparedness for possible conflict, asserting that the United States had been at war during many years of its existence, yet never had entered a war prepared to fight.

Initiation ceremonies were conducted for nearly 1,000 new legion members on the organization's 21st anniversary.

Frank L. Greeny, of Milwaukee, state commander, was named an honorary colonel by Governor Julius P. Heil.

aid Sweden against any German intervention, Chamberlain described the allies readiness to enter the northern conflict.

Previously Premier Daladier had told of preparation of an expedition of 50,000 for Finland.

Chamberlain faced a house of commons so crowded that some members were compelled to sit in the gallery as he began his first statement on the progress of the war since March 8. When he spoke briefly of the Russian-Finnish peace, Chamberlain said:

"I wish I could say that further reflection since then had in any way modified our first impression that a great tragedy had occurred."

"But unhappily a closer examination and consideration of the peace terms only confirm us in the view that they were in fact such as only could have been accepted by a proud people like the Finns under dire compulsion."

Chamberlain declared that "in spite of all we did we were unable to save Finland from her fate, but perhaps our power to help Finland is not yet at an end."

This brought loud cheers.

Ready to contribute

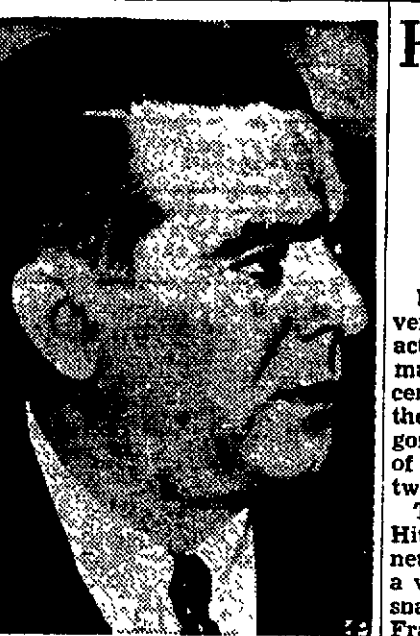

"If further aid is required I know this country will gladly take its share in contributing to the regeneration of Finland," he said.

"It was a bitter thought for all."

ACTOR ARRESTED

Irving Cohen (above), 37, who has played bit roles in the movies, including one part as a policeman, was arrested in Hollywood in connection with the 1937 slaying of Walter Sage in Sullivan county, N. Y. His arrest was sought by New York authorities after a disclosure of the arrest of 10 men in an alleged murder-to-order scheme.

BARES MURDER RING

William F. O'Dwyer (above), district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn) revealed that he had ten men arrested in New York as members of a murder-to-order combine. He blamed them for gangland killings. Shortly after his announcement, sheriff's deputies in Hollywood placed Irving Cohen, actor, under arrest.

Leiserson Accuses His Two Colleagues on Labor Board

Washington.—(P)—William L. Leiserson accused his two colleagues on the national labor board today of upsetting rather than encouraging collective bargaining relationships by one of their decisions.

Leiserson dissented from a majority opinion ordering the McQuay-Norris Manufacturing company of Indianapolis, to incorporate in a signed agreement with the United Auto Workers (C. I. O.), a clause giving the union exclusive recognition as bargaining agent for all production employees in the plant.

The board majority—Chairman J. Warren Madden and Edwin J. Smith—held that the company had failed to engage in collective bargaining as contemplated by the Wagner act through refusing to write such a clause into the agreement. The union's majority status, they said, was conceded by the company.

The two board members said that the company agreed in 1938 to a contract clause recognizing the union as sole bargaining agent for its members, and promising to deal with no other agent except individual or groups of employees.

U. A. W. A. locals from McQuay-Norris plants in St. Louis and Connersville, Ind., who took part in the negotiations, accepted this clause and signed an agreement. Officers of the Indianapolis local demurred, however, pending board action on their complaint.

Leiserson, who recently criticized many board practices before a house committee, expressed the opinion that the complaint never should have been authorized by the board and should be dismissed.

"It seems to me," he said, "that the board . . . is unnecessarily injecting itself into a situation where an employer and a union have reached complete agreement, and that it is thereby upsetting collective bargaining relationships rather than encouraging them."

Plans for developing an arms safety program in Outagamie county were discussed at a meeting of the arms safety committee of the Outagamie Conservation club last night at the Appleton Y. M. C. A.

The group decided to contact all social and civic organizations, as well as sportsmen's groups and ask them to send representatives to a meeting, which will be scheduled here soon, to form a county-wide arms safety council.

The proposed council will sponsor programs to promote the safe use of firearms and will conduct educational programs towards prevention of arms accidents.

At the meeting were four Manitowoc men who explained the program as it operates in Manitowoc county. They were Percy Brandt, Bernard Hagen, Alvin Krumm and John Egan. Brandt outlined Manitowoc's program at a recent meeting of the Outagamie Conservation club.

Members of the local committee are F. M. Foor, Fred Rehfeldt, Phelan Van Ryzin and Wilbur Steenis.

lovers of freedom that the prolonged and heroic defense of the Finns was in the end unable to withstand the overwhelmingly superiority in numbers and in equipment of their foes."

"If the Finns did in the end suffer defeat their stand was not in vain," Chamberlain continued. "They have preserved their honor. They have won the respect of all the world. Their government which fought the war still holds office. Their army is unbroken. The spirit of their people is unbroken."

"Shock to World"

"The collapse of Finnish resistance was a profound shock throughout the world. Once again we were compelled to see a small state the victim of that policy of aggression we have taken up arms to resist."

Chamberlain continued:

"It was only to be expected that German propaganda would use this event to move responsibility from themselves and throw it upon others. But she (Germany) cannot escape her responsibility."

"Finland would never have been invaded if it had not been for the pacts between the Soviet and Germany. It was only German threats which terrified the Scandinavian countries into withholding help which might perhaps have saved her."

"No one can suggest that this country and France had failed in their obligations to do their utmost to assist Finland. Least of all should such suggestions come from individuals in countries far away from the seat of the war."

Prolonged cheers interrupted the prime minister here.

"It was right that we should ask ourselves whether we had a clear conscience in this matter and whether we did all we possibly could."

Hitler Counts on Aid From Mussolini and Stalin as He Outlines Ambitious Program

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
New York.—(P)—One can only venture into superlatives and characterize as "overwhelming" the magnitude and completeness and certainty of the Nazi program for the defeat of the allies which has gone echoing about the world out of the Brenner pass meeting between Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini.

To put it on thumb-nail, Fuehrer Hitler expects to form a ring of neutral nations about Germany like a vast Siegfried line, so that he can snap his fingers at England and France. Also, organization of the Balkans will, together with mighty Russia, provide the fatherland with food and military supplies and thereby render the blockade impotent.

The Nazi chieftain will do this with the aid of Italy and Bolshevik Russia. Those arch-enemies, Mussolini and Stalin, are to bury the hatchet—maybe, Italy will enter the war on Germany's side if and when this seems desirable.

Short Conference
In short, the totalitarian leaders pulled a dozen frisky rabbits out of the hat in the brief space of a two-and-a-half hour conference, held amidst the most profound secrecy of Il Duce's private car in the snow-swept pass.

But the conference didn't remain a secret for another two-and-a-half-hours, or at least a good portion of it didn't. Berlin and Rome, being thoroughly acquainted with details, promptly tossed onto the table all the cards for what normally would be a highly-confidential operation in diplomacy.

At this point you and I suddenly realize that the disclosure out of this highly-dramatic meeting is "overwhelming" because it is meant to be. When we have readjusted our perspective we see that this "broadcasting" of the conference results was for several purposes, among them being:

1. To impress the world at large with the importance of this coup.

2. To stimulate the morale of the people at home.

3. To try to set the allies thinking more vigorously in terms of peace.

4. Probably to act as a smoke-screen for peace suggestions—or at least information necessary to the framing of a peace suggestion.

Which Special American Ambassador Welles likely will bring back to President Roosevelt.

This doesn't mean that the Hitler-Mussolini conference wasn't of great importance, for it undoubtedly was, in one way or another. However, the immediate change effected by this Hitlerian coup would seem to me to be slight.

Admittedly, the situation would be changed greatly if the Nazi program were carried through to finality. But that is the hitch—the benefits of the plan are largely potentialities which are still to be worked out. I mean, it's one thing to talk about throwing a ring of neutrals about a country, and it's another thing to do it.

It is true that the Balkans are jumpy as the result of Finland being allowed to go under without sufficient aid. Naturally their tendency will be to listen more carefully to Hitler. However, all the indications are that they isn't one of them that doesn't intend to remain neutral to the last ditch.

Pledged to Allies
So far as regards Greece and powerful Turkey, they are pledged to fight with the allies if they have to get into the war. Rumania's heart is with England, though King Carol has to comply with many of Hitler's demands.

It will take a lot of doing to swing the Balkans into Hitler's camp, even though Mussolini seems to be in general good favor among these fiery states. It's my guess that the advent of Russia in that part of the world would start a near-panic.

The idea of rapprochement between Mussolini and the Bolsheviks, who are his big hate, seems a bit far-fetched. Perhaps Italy could work in such a triple entente if Germany were the sole link with the Muscovites, but it's difficult to think of Il Duce holding hands with the Reds after having created the Fascist party to drive them out.

The matter of Italy's entrance into the war on Germany's side is left very vague—another of those "ifs." The reason undoubtedly is that there is small prospect of Mussolini abandoning his policy of non-belligerence.

Should Il Duce join Hitler, the French would put an army across the Italian border, and the allied fleets would swarm about the Italian coasts like bees in a garden. If he went with the allies he would have Hitler on his neck. Mussolini already has selected his correct niche in the war—non-belligerence.

So far as concerns Germany getting great quantities of supplies from the Balkans and Russia, the whole thing is very uncertain. Neither quarter can furnish Nazidom what it wants at the moment. Probably they could in time, but it would take long development.

Frankie Yale Murder Case to be Reopened

New York.—(P)—District Attorney William F. O'Dwyer said today he was re-opening the murder case of Frankie Yale, Brooklyn gangster and friend of "Scarface" Al Capone, who was blamed by Chicago police for the slaying of "Big Jim" Colosimo in 1920 and the killing of Dion O'Banion in 1924.

O'Dwyer's unannounced announcement came as the Brooklyn prosecutor spurred his investigation of at least 30 gangland assassinations attributed to a "murder-for-cash" syndicate uncovered in Brooklyn.

G. E. Watson Gets Wauwatosa Post

Former Waupaca School Superintendent to Leave Marinette

Milwaukee.—(P)—George E. Watson, superintendent of schools at Marinette since 1936 was appointed last night superintendent of schools in suburban Wauwatosa. He was chosen from a field of nearly 50 to succeed William T. Darling, who resigned.

Watson, 42, is president of the City Superintendents' association of Wisconsin. He received his bachelor of arts degree at Lawrence college, Appleton, and his master of arts degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Previously, he taught high school at Ironwood, Mich., was high school principal at Stevens Point and River Falls, and was superintendent of schools at Waupaca for 12 years. He is a World war veteran.

Slot Machine Looters Are Held at Madison

Madison.—(P)—Three men who admitted looting slot machines in Wisconsin and other states were held for investigation today after a money bag of the First National bank, of Baker Ore, was found in their automobile.

Detective Captain John R. Arnold said none of the men would admit ownership of the bag, which contained slot machine chips, some of them from Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls places.

Arnold said federal agents were asked to investigate. He reported the men, who identified themselves as residents of Salt Lake City, Utah, had been changing diets and quarters for bills at Madison business establishments.

Annual Tenebrae Services to Open Wednesday Night

Capuchin Fathers, Male Choir to Chant at St. Joseph's Church

Tenebrae services, an annual event in St. Joseph's church, will take place at 7:30 Wednesday night. The service is a climax to the solemnity of the Lenten season. Commemorating the passion and death of Jesus Christ, the service takes its name from the Latin word meaning darkness, and it is characterized by chanting and extinguishing all candles except one, representing Christ, the Light of the World, which is then hidden from view behind the altar, signifying Christ's death.

The service will be chanted by the Capuchin fathers and the male choir under the direction of Prof. A. J. Theiss.

Two churches, St. Joseph's and St. Theresa, will hold all night vigils before the Blessed Sacrament Holy Thursday night. Sponsored by Holy Name societies of the two churches, the vigil will be observed by groups of Holy Name men as well as other members of the congregations who will go to the two churches for periods of prayer and meditation at various times from Thursday evening until Friday morning. The two Holy Name societies have arranged to have groups in the churches at all times during the entire night.

Other Holy Week services at St. Joseph's church will include a solemn high mass at 8 o'clock Holy Thursday morning, preceded by the distribution of holy communion every half hour beginning about 5:30. Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will take place all day as well as all night. On Friday the mass of the pre-sanctified will begin a 3-hour service from 12 to 3 o'clock, and in the evening there will be the tenebrae services and a sermon. On Saturday morning the services consisting of blessing of the Paschal candle, fire and Easter and baptismal water will begin at 6:30 and mass will start about 8 o'clock.

Devotions This Evening
At St. Theresa church the usual Perpetual Help devotions will be held at 7:30 this evening, and confessions will be heard Wednesday afternoon and evening. Holy communion will be distributed at 6 o'clock, and there will be a high mass at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, followed by public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament all day and all night. Holy hour will take place from 7 to 8 o'clock Thursday night. Mass of the pre-sanctified will begin at noon Friday, and the service will close with stations of the cross. Stations will take place at 7:30 Friday morning.

day night, followed by veneration of the cross. The blessing of the Easter fire and candle and the Easter and baptismal water will begin at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and mass will begin about 8 o'clock. Confessions will be heard Saturday afternoon and evening.

St. Mary church will have confessions Wednesday afternoon and evening in preparation for holy communion on Holy Thursday, the day on which the institution of the Holy Eucharist is commemorated. Communion will be distributed at 6 and 7 o'clock Thursday morning, and the solemn high mass will begin at 8 o'clock. Public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will take place during the day, and holy hour and reposition will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night. On Good Friday there will be public adoration from 7 to 12 o'clock in the morning, and from 12 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a service beginning with the mass of the pre-sanctified and ending with devotions and veneration of the cross.

Stations of the Cross
Stations of the cross will take place at 7:30 Friday evening. Saturday's services will begin at 7:30 in the morning with the blessing of the new fire, Easter candle and Easter and baptismal water. High mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Confessions will be heard from 3 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon and from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Holy Week services at Sacred Heart church will include mass at 7:30 Thursday morning and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament all day; mass of the pre-sanctified at 7:30 Friday morning, and stations of the cross at 7:30 in the evening and the blessing of the Paschal candle, new fire and Easter and baptismal water at 7 o'clock Saturday morning followed by mass.

To signify the state of mourning of the church during the last days of Holy Week over the passion and death of Christ, no bells are rung in Catholic churches from the middle of the mass on Holy Thursday until during the mass on Holy Saturday. Lent, for Catholics, ends at noon on Holy Saturday.

Little Chute, Freedom
Special services will be held this week at St. John church, Little Chute, in observance of Holy Week. Devotions in honor of Our Mother of Perpetual Help, sermon and benediction will take place at 7:30 this evening. On Holy Thursday there will be a high mass at 8 o'clock in the morning and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament all day, concluding with adoration services at 7:30 in the evening. The mass of the pre-sanctified will be celebrated at 8 o'clock Friday morning, and veneration of the relic will take place both afternoon and evening. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening the stations of the cross will be said. Holy Mass of the pre-sanctified will begin at noon Friday, and the service will close with stations of the cross. Stations will take place at 7:30 Friday morning.

WIN PRIZES IN MUSIC CONTEST

Summer street, was the first place winner in string instruments.

las church, Freedom, will begin Holy Thursday with a high mass at 8 o'clock followed by a procession with the Blessed Sacrament. Services will be held at 7:30 that evening. On Good Friday the services will start at 8 o'clock in the morning, the unveiling of the cross preceding the services. The way of the cross and a sermon will take place at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Saturday morning the blessing of the new fire, Easter candle, Easter and baptismal water will precede the mass.

Boy's Town Program Again Sponsored by Schools at Waupaca

Waupaca—The local schools will again carry out a Boy's Town program, but instead of carrying out the idea for one day, six weeks are to be given over to the students when they will participate for one hour each day in some place of business. This is being planned particularly for students who are not planning to go away to school and

Half of Polish Air Force Destroyed in Initial Raids

Madison—(AP)—Lloyd Lehrbas, Associated Press foreign staff writer, told University of Wisconsin students of journalism and political science yesterday of his experiences in reporting the "blitzkrieg" occupation of Poland by German forces. "I found it tougher to sit in a dark bomb shelter with a gas mask on my face than staying out in the open during the German air raids that were staged with methodical regularity," he said.

When the first German bomb fell on Warsaw, Lehrbas said, the explosion awakened him from sleep and another "shock" convinced him that the invasion had begun. Later he sat in an armchair at the window of his quarters and dictated to an Associated Press office outside the war zone the first eyewitness account of an air raid on Warsaw.

"The Germans destroyed about half of the Polish air force in the initial bombings," he said. "They followed up with a coordinated mechanized army thrust that cut up Poland's army like you would cut a pie. After breaking the Polish army into pieces, it was easy to wipe it out."

Lehrbas told of making his way out of Poland with hordes of refugees, their train stopping frequently to let passengers scurry for shelter along the tracks while bombing planes roared overhead.

"There was one elderly woman aboard who finally got sick of it all," he recalled. "She ran from the is a result of the annual counseling and guidance program held in the schools last week."

April 1 is the tentative date set for the first day of the program.

train four or five times, and finally didn't come back when it started to move again."

Lehrbas is temporarily stationed in the United States.

City's Letterheads Bring Comment From Eastern Newspaper

The city of Appleton's colorful letterheads publicizing the city and inviting industry brought a newspaper story and considerable comment in Lowell, Mass., last week.

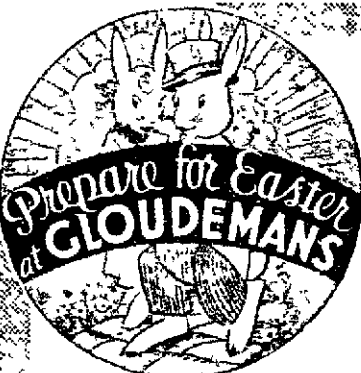

City Engineer Alfred Wickesberg wrote the city engineer of Lowell asking information on soil-cement pavements laid in that city.

The Lowell newspaper carried a story describing the stationery of the "western city" with its "lay-out of pictures depicting the best features of the city."

The coloring on the back of the picture is so striking, the newspaper said, that you are almost compelled to read the back before the use of similar letterheads for Lowell.

Union Services Will be Offered For Protestants

Series of Evening Devotions to be Held at Congregational Church

Several union services are being held during Holy Week, including a series of evening services which began Sunday evening and will continue at 7:30 each evening through Wednesday night at First Congregational church. Cooperating churches are Congregational, First Methodist, Memorial Presbyterian and First Baptist. This evening Dr. Harry C. Culver of the Methodist church will speak on "Christ, Our Example" and Wednesday night the Rev. Robert K. Bell of Memorial Presbyterian church will preach on "Christ, Our Savior." Sunday night the Rev. S. J. Forbush of the Congregational church spoke and Monday the Rev. R. H. Spangler of the Baptist church gave the sermon.

Two other Protestant churches, namely, St. Paul's Evangelical and Emmanuel Evangelical, will join the four mentioned previously in sponsoring a 3-hour service from 12 to 3 o'clock on Good Friday at the Methodist church. The theme of the service will be "The Seven Words from the Cross," and during the first hour the Rev. Mr. Forbush will speak on the first three words, and for the second hour Dr. Ira E. Schlegel, superintendent of Appleton district of the Methodist church, will speak on the last four words. During the last hour the choir of the Methodist church will present the cantata, "The Seven Last Words by Du Bois" under the direction of Cyrus Daniel.

Radio Broadcasts
Appleton Lutheran lenten committee, composed of Lutherans from several churches in Appleton, are sponsoring a daily radio broadcast, 12:45 to 1 o'clock over WHEB Monday through Friday. The Rev. C. H. Zeidler, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran church, will speak Wednesday and Friday, and the Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor of First English Lutheran church, who gave the talk today, will preach Thursday.

Holy week services at All Saints Episcopal church began Monday and will continue daily through Saturday. Holy communion is celebrated every morning except Friday and Saturday. There will be holy communion at 7 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday mornings in the chapel, and at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the church, also presentation of the united thank offering at the latter service. A candlelight service will be held at 7:15 each evening, the one Saturday night being in preparation for Easter communion. A 3-hour service will be held from 12 to 3 o'clock Good Friday, and baptisms will take place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

First Baptist church will hold a baptismal and communion service at 7:30 Thursday night, and at 10 o'clock Friday morning there will be a Good Friday service for the Sunday school children. The Rev. Edwin Simpson, Green Bay, preached at the church last Sunday morning in place of the Rev. R. H. Spangler who was ill.

At Mt. Olive Lutheran church there will be communion services Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and again from 1 to 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. A Good Friday service will take place at 7:45 Friday night at this church.

Communion Services
A German communion service will take place at 7:30 Thursday night at St. Matthew Lutheran church, and there will be communion services at 9:30 Friday morning and at 7:30 in the evening. The lenten series will be concluded on Friday night with the pastor, the Rev. Sylvester Johnson, preaching on the seventh word from the cross, "Father, Into Thy Hands I Command My Spirit." Announcements for communion are being taken this afternoon and evening.

Holy week services at Trinity English Lutheran church include a service at 7:30 Wednesday night at which 28 new members will be received into the church and holy communion will be celebrated. The confirmation class will receive its first communion at 7:30 Thursday night which will be the occasion also for communion for the entire congregation. A Good Friday service will take place from 1 to 2 o'clock Friday afternoon with the Rev. Samuel Roth, Neenah, and the Rev. C. H. Zeidler, pastor, preaching. A ceremony of veiling of the cross will be held at 7:30 Friday evening.

Emmanuel Evangelical church is having Holy week services at 7:30 each evening this week except Saturday. They are preaching services with the Rev. C. H. Blum, pastor, speaking. There will be a communion service Friday night with the Rev. H. E. Krug, district superintendent, in charge.

Friendship Supper
The last of the friendship suppers held during lent at First Methodist church will take place Thursday evening, followed by celebration of the Lord's Supper at 7:30.

Memorial Presbyterian church will have a service of communion and reception of members at 7:45 Thursday night.

A special English lenten service will take place at 7:30 Wednesday night at Zion Lutheran church, and German holy communion will be celebrated at 7:30 Thursday night. On Good Friday there will be English communion at 9 o'clock and German at 10:15, and at 1 o'clock a short additional devotion service will be held. English holy communion will be celebrated again at 7:30 in the evening.

St. Paul Lutheran church will have a communion service in English at 7:30 Thursday night, at 9 o'clock Good Friday morning and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. German communion will be celebrated at 10:15 Friday morning and at 7:30 in the evening. Junior Young People's society will meet at 7:30 this evening, and announcements for

ON MID-WEEK BILL AT RIO

A warm, tropical romance, counter-pointed by the thrills and suspense of a gigantic man-hunt on land and in the air, is grippingly unfolded in "The Marines Fly High," with Richard Dix, Chester Morris and Lucille Ball in the stellar leads.

The film plays at the Rio theater Wednesday and Thursday on the same program with "The Fatal Hour," in which Boris Karloff brings the latest adventures of James Lee Wong, Chinese detective to the screen.

Communion will take place this afternoon and evening.

Communion services will take place at 7:30 Wednesday and Thursday nights at First English Lutheran church, and from 1 to 2 Friday afternoon there will be a special Good Friday service. A memorial service will be held at 7:30 Friday night.

Reception of Members
First Congregational church will have a communion service and reception of members at 7:30 Thursday night at the church. Mothers of the beginners in the church school will be entertained at the fourth annual tea from 3 to 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the beginners' room.

Holy week services at the Gospel temple of which the Rev. C. D. Goudie is pastor will begin at 7:45 this evening and continue each night through Friday. Tonight the Rev. Henry Graf, Oshkosh, will speak, tomorrow night the Rev. E. O. Flagstead, Manitowish, will be guest preacher, on Thursday the Rev. L. R. Clevenger, Kaukauna, will give the sermon, and on Friday the Rev. E. A. Beck, Green Bay, is scheduled to speak.

At the Appleton tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance there will be a Passion Week service at 7:45 this evening with the Rev. Lowell O. Bodie, pastor, speaking on "What Does the Resurrection Mean?" At 7:45 Thursday night the sermon will be entitled "Fruits of the Cross." There will be no Friday evening service, as members of the congregation will attend the union service during the day at the Methodist church.

Kimberly Presbyterian church will have a lenten service at 7:30

Wednesday night and communion and reception of members at 7:30 Friday night.

"The Lord's Supper, Truly a Sacrament to Grant Forgiveness" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. W. F. Wichmann at the Maundy Thursday evening service at 7:30 Thursday night in the village hall. Holy communion will be celebrated. In the Good Friday service at 7:30 Friday night the pastor will preach on Christ's last word from the cross, "Father, Into Thy Hands I Command My Spirit."

"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon for Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist. The following passage was taken from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Matter, with its mortality, cannot be substantial if Spirit is substantial and eternal. Which ought to be substance to us—the erring, changing, and dying, the mutable and mortal, or the unerring, immutable, and immortal? Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance."

At St. Paul Lutheran church, Dale, Holy week services will be as follows: English holy communion at 7:30 Thursday night; German holy communion at 10 o'clock Friday morning. At Zion Reformed church there will be Good Friday services with holy communion at 7:30 Friday night.

Schools and Roads Leading Items in Wisconsin Budget

Judge Rosa Describes State Expenditures in Lions Club Talk

During the 20-year period from 1918 to 1937, inclusive, 31 per cent of Wisconsin's total expenditures for the state government and all its sub-divisions went for education and 28 per cent for highways, Judge Charles D. Rosa, Madison, for 16 years a member of the state tax commission, said in a talk before the Appleton Lions club yesterday noon in the Conway hotel.

Judge Rosa, speaking on the subject of public financing, reported on studies he has made in this field. He used wall charts in showing the club how income and expenditures in the state have risen, the causes, and the financial problems involved in modern government.

He said that the chief danger facing modern local and state governments is that "We are too impatient about what we want in the way of government and we go out and borrow the money to pay for it."

He said that during the 20-year period ended with 1937, the state of Wisconsin paid $642,200,000 in principal and interest on debts contracted for governmental purposes. Next to education and roads in the list of expenditures stands "charities, corrections, recreation, and sanitation," with 18.6 per cent adn "general government and the protection of personal property" with 14.6 per cent, Judge Rosa said. Wisconsin governments spent a total of $4,102,878,000 during the 20-year period, he reported, this figure including money paid on debts.

The former tax commission member traced the growth of Wisconsin's income, showing that in 1900 it stood at 386 million dollars, that in 1917 it for the first time passed the billion mark, and in 1929 hit a peak of one billion, 900 million dollars. He reported that in 1909, Wisconsin's wealth was estimated at roughly five billion, by 1929 it had risen to nearly 15 billion, and that in 1932 it was down to about nine billion.

He said that in 1839, approximately a century ago, the national income of the United States passed the billion mark for the first year. By 1929, it was up to 79 billion and last year was about 10 billion less. Per capita income in the United

Holy Week Services Listed For Churches at Kimberly

Kimberly — Special services will be held at the three Kimberly churches this week and on Easter Sunday. At Holy Name church devotions and Stations of the Cross will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening. On Holy Thursday communion will be distributed at the 6:30 mass in the morning and at the 8 o'clock high mass. The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed on the side altar during the day, until after the 7:30 services in the evening.

At 8 o'clock on Good Friday morning will be a mass of the presanctified. At 2:30 in the afternoon and 7:30 in the evening Stations of the Cross and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will be held. Ceremonies of the blessing of the water and candles and other articles will begin at 7 o'clock Saturday morning while the mass will begin about 9:15.

Confessions will be heard Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and after services in the evening. On Saturday afternoon and evening, confessions will be heard for men and women if they find it impossible to go on the other days. No children will be heard on Saturday.

The choir has prepared a four-voice male mass in honor of St. Joan of Arc, composed by the Rev. L. A. Dobbelsstein, O'Praem. For the Easter offertory the choir will present "Terra Tremuit" by the Rev. William Paul. William Maas is director and Miss Cecil is organist.

Five masses will be offered Sunday morning at 5 o'clock, 6:30, 8:30 children's mass; 10 o'clock high mass; and 12:15.

Lutheran Services

At the Mt. Calvary Evangelical Lutheran church, the Rev. W. F. Wichmann, pastor, announced that the Lord's Supper will be the sermon theme at the Maundy Thursday services which will begin at 7:30 in the evening at the village hall. Holy communion will be distributed. At 7:30 Good Friday evening the pastor will preach on Christ's last words from the cross. "Easter Victory" will be the sermon theme at the Easter services in the village hall at 9:30 Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Wichmann will deliver the sermon. Holy communion will be distributed in conjunction with the services. The choir will sing "I Know My Redeemer Lives."

Sunrise Services

At the First Presbyterian church Mrs. L. C. Smith, wife of the pastor, will deliver the sermon at the Sunrise services, 6:30 next Sunday morning. The Young Peoples choir will sing "Christ Arose" and Betty Clark will sing an Easter solo. The high school sextet will sing "Lilies" by A. A. Mumma. At the 10:30 services the adult choir will sing "Hail His Triumph" by Holton; "Hallelujah" by F. W. Peace; "He Giveth Us the Victory," H. Von Berger; and "Hail Him with Rejoicing" by Norman. Special services will be held at the church Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Says Plane Sales to Allies Helped Speed Up Deliveries to Navy
Washington—Secretary Edison said Monday that sale of domestic aircraft to the allies instead of interfering with the navy's procurement program, had tended to reduce costs and to expedite deliveries.

In a letter to Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house naval committee, Edison said in part: "You are advised that the sale of aircraft to the allied governments by domestic manufacturers has not interfered with the navy department's aircraft procurement program. . . .

"I have no evidence that the cost of aircraft to the navy department has been enhanced by sales of such equipment to the allied governments. There is evidence that the cost has been reduced."
The letter, which Vinson placed in the Congressional Record, said that in at least one instance sales to the foreign governments had resulted in earlier deliveries to the navy department than usual.

Einstein Joins Backers Of Bertrand Russell
New York—(AP)—Albert Einstein added his voice Monday to supporters of the appointment of the British philosopher Bertrand Russell to the faculty of City College of New York declaring: "Great spirits have always found opposition from mediocrities."
In a statement made public by the college, the noted physicist said mediocrities "cannot understand it when a man does not thoughtlessly submit 'o hereditary prejudices but honestly and courageously uses his intelligence and fulfills the duty to express the results of his thoughts in clear form."

The appointment of Russell will come up tonight for reconsideration by the city board of higher education, after a controversy in which Bishop William T. Manning of the Protestant Episcopal church made the first move. He criticized Russell as a "recognized propagandist against both religion and morality."

WALKING THE HIGH BOARD FENCE

Attorney General Jackson has retreated in the face of attacks upon the Federal Bureau of Investigation to the extent, at least, of indicating a possible preference for a namby pamby outfit that would be trained to play tag with the criminals of the country but never tag hard enough to cause an abrasion.

The dismissal of solemn indictments of a Federal Grand Jury was not enough. Even a frank admission that the laws against alien recruitment had been breached did not save the indictments. Why and cunning men who shamefully defrauded hopeful and trusting youths and led them to their deaths in Spain have walked out of court rooms free despite the law, despite the facts, despite their own admissions of guilt, just to remind us perhaps that the administration of Federal laws is political and that the way you get political support is to favor organized minorities whether consisting of admitted criminals or not.

But, we repeat, even all that may not be enough. The Reds, Pinks and Fellow Travelers are proud people and demand an apology. Some of them were arrested in the night time and their sleep disturbed. Will not the Attorney General fix the time that the F.B.I. may arrest outlaws even after the Grand Jury indictments have been turned into their hands?

The Attorney General wants to be vigilant he says in a detected "excessive zeal" by G-men, not for the purpose of rewarding them but for the purpose of condemning them. The arrested persons apparently will not be satisfied unless the F.B.I. crawls on the ground and eats dust.

This step by the Attorney General is in keeping with a purpose of the administration to cement the cracks in its beautiful friendship with the wild men of the country. Not a vote must be overlooked. And perhaps enough may be gained by this sort of public abasement to even turn the tide next November in some pivotal state.

Were the Attorney General really intent upon bringing to the bar of justice all miscreants instead of employing the vast powers of his office toward a perpetuation in power of those already in power, this retreat before the forces of falsity and hypocrisy would never have taken place.

Meanwhile the bright youths who went to Spain because cruel and infamous sharpers violated the laws of this country in virtually reducing them to bondage, still fertilize the olive groves and vineyards of the Spanish Peninsula—a case of mass murder as willful as Hauptmann's though unpunished.

THE FINNS AND THE FUTURE

American correspondents have written from Helsinki that Finnish women did not weep at all the cruel wrongs of war, at the death and destruction, but broke down at the shame of the peace terms inflicted.

The Finnish chief mourned the loss of lands to the little nation that had been cultivated "with toil and sweat."

Altogether, we have probably witnessed in this terrible affair as black a page as history may show even in its most wretched periods.

A nation, great in size and power, deliberately violated its written word and shamefully expected to justify its act among its own people with the preposterous charge that it had been attacked.

This is a form of criminality deserving of the highest praise in hell. It is non-human in that it is so manifestly bestial.

Impetualist regimes have some times been guilty of similar conduct but only when headed by monsters who should have been under restraint. And now we are forced, compelled by the positive proof, to place the Socialist regime in precisely the same class in which one would place the regime of Ivan the Terrible often called a mad man.

It almost seems impossible that so great, loyal and heroic a people would have to bend a knee to cowardly hoodlumism in government, 180 millions against 4. How brave the Russians!

And what became of that purpose of Moscow "to free the workers and peasants in Finland from the bandits"? Of course that stale argument may be put in moth balls until needed again. The Soviets got the land they wanted. They had as much use for the working people of Finland as they have for the church.

THE KENOSHA COBBLER

When that shoe tapper down at Kenosha showed the census taker to the door because he hadn't been courteous we witnessed a gesture somewhat comparable to the shot at Lexington "heard 'round the world."

The action of the census taker at Kenosha was certainly not typical of census takers everywhere. But it may serve as the text for a sermon nonetheless.

Our nation and the life we live is constructed upon certain rules concerning the dignity of each individual that is found most essential when denied. No agent of the government has a right to stomp heavily upon any American's porch or gruffly enter any American's shop and sharply make demands. When we inaugurated this democracy it was somewhat in deep resentment of the leaden heel and the gun-carrying arm. Our Revolutionary forefathers didn't hate the individuals in the British army but their muscles twitched when some supercilious sergeant told them how many troops they would have to quarter, with what they would have to feed them and "step damn lively too."

If the Kenosha cobbler's story of what occurred is true the country is for the cobbler one hundred per cent plus. The only way one can begin to appreciate liberty is to actually witness encroachments of this character. Then the blood boils.

Because instances like that at Kenosha are infrequent most people do not realize the natural anger to which they would be subjected if the incident occurred to them. But lacking actual demonstration our people are not so devoid of imagination they would fail to conjure up a similar instance in their own lives.

Suppose the men with leaden heels and pistols on their belts "dressed in little brief authority" opened doors without privilege and ransacked houses while the families looked on? Suppose they entered shops, berated proprietors and cursed them out for their slowness? Suppose with flaming language and abuse they shook fists under noses and threatened dire consequences? All these things are not only possible but daily occurrences in lands where liberty is not.

Here as soon as it was learned that a census man had gone beyond his authority his action was denounced by his superiors, the object of his ire was released and pending proceedings against him dismissed, a courteous enumerator talked to the flushed cobbler and obtained the desired information with good nature all around. It is one of numerous deencies and advantages people often forget in a democracy.

And the very men in America who plot against our form of government, who belittle and abuse it, who praise every wretched action of the tyrants and defend even their bloody hands, would be the loudest screamers the country has ever known were their own liberties heavily trampled upon.

HOW TO MAKE BRAINS LAST

That somewhat discouraging theory of certain psychologists who maintain people begin to lose their brain power after reaching middle age is disputed by the findings of Dr. Frank H. Freeman, dean of the University of California school of education.

Dr. Freeman reports that in a "radio intelligence" test of more than 2,000 persons ranging in age from 10 to 90 years he found those between 20 and 40 were not quite as bright as those over 40. Dr. Freeman says the difference was so fractional that it doesn't mean anything, but that whatever edge there was to intellectual capabilities it went to those who had passed the mark commonly supposed to be life's peak. "The average person may show a little decrease in speed (after 40)," the doctor is quoted as saying, "but in real intellectual accomplishments no substantial decline is indicated," for either men or women.

The findings are most heartening, especially for everyone past or even nearing middle age. It was depressing to think that the human brain was good for only about 40 years after which it was certain to deteriorate. It is much more hopeful to believe that the brain will remain keen even after 40 years of operation and that, therefore, it can be combined effectively with the experience that one is bound to acquire in 40 years of living.

However, Dr. Freeman made one qualification which most certainly should not be overlooked. When he said a man's intellectual capabilities do not decline after 40 he added, "if he uses those capabilities."

The statement is both a warning and a reassurance: A reassurance to those people who seem to be afraid that if they use their brains they will wear out; a warning to those who believe they can stop thinking after they are 40 and remain mentally alert.

MEDICAL STUDENT

(For Phyllis)

In a vase of world of men she takes her place,
Quiet, determined. In her fair young face,
Blossoms a dream of service. In her hands,
Lie gifts of healing. When in class she stands,
She seems more like a priestess than a woman,
For her concerns are godlike in their scope;
As if her aims were almost superhuman,
And her increasing knowledge our one hope.
Others may bring to the four walls of home
An ideal and a pledge. The world is her
Heart's dwelling place. Wherever sorrows come
Or illness waits, shall her ambition stir.
And she shall be unsatisfied until
The world is healed and bettered by her skill.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN
Washington—Strangest sight in the bitter battle over the Hatch act was the love-feast between "Dear Alben" Barkley and "Happy" Chandler. Two years ago they had plastered each other from one end of Kentucky to the other with fiery charges of pressure politics. Chandler had denounced Barkley for using WPA votes, barred by the present Hatch act, while Barkley denounced Chandler for using his giant state machine, which would be barred by the new Hatch act. But now they both decided to go pure.

Prior to this unified purity the two senators had a little talk. Barkley sought out his one-time rival and asked him if he intended to support the new Hatch bill to keep state officeholders out of politics.

"Alben, I'll be right in there alongside of you," replied "Happy." "I'm for this bill 100 per cent. I don't want that state highway gang doing to me what I tried to do to you."

Chandler was referring to J. Lyter Donaldson, Kentucky highway commissioner, who has been threatening to run against "Happy" this year.

Note—When a colleague jestingly asked Senator Pat Harrison if his "gang was playing politics," the genial Mississippian grinned and retorted: "They'd better be."

NEW VOICES
The hotly-debated Smith amendments to the National Labor Relations act are headed for stormy weather in the house labor committee, judging from the shellacking they got in their initial consideration.

For the first time this year, all 21 members of the committee were present when it met behind closed doors. Chairman Mary Norton promptly put them on the spot by asking each his opinion about the drastic proposals authored by Representative Howard Smith, Virginia anti-unionist who is chairman of the special committee investigating the labor board.

Result of the secret poll was: Ten (nine Democrats and one Republican, were flatly opposed to all the amendments; five favored them; five voted partial approval; one refused to commit himself. The individual members of these groups were:

Flatly opposed: Democrats Mrs. Norton, Kent Keller, Matt Dunn, Reuben T. Wood (president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor), John Lesinski, Albert Thomas, Frank Fries, Lawrence Connery (brother and successor to the late Bill Connery, co-author with Senator Wagner of the labor act), and Thomas D'Alesandro; and Richard Welch, liberal California Republican.

Favorable: Republicans Fred Hart, Chester Gross, and Clare Hoffman; Democrats Graham Barden (author of a bill to emasculate the House-Hour Act), and W. F. Norrell of Arkansas, elected as a New Dealer in 1938.

Partially favorable: Democrats Robert Ramspeck and Jennings Randolph; Republicans Clyde Smith, Bruce Barton, and Gerald Landon.

"No comment": Democrat Dewey Harter of Akron, O., elected with CIO support.

The decision of the labor committee on the amendments is of key importance. If the committee vetoes them it will block consideration by the house except by unprecedented measures. Also, if the committee rewrites the amendments, which is likely, it will be difficult for their backers to jam them through.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Super-Sleuth J. Edgar Hoover was on the verge of resigning shortly after Senator Norris launched his attack against him. Walter Winchell dissuaded him. Hoover has had various big money offers, could write his own ticket in private life. . . . There is a lot of whispering about Lord Lothian's charity concert at the British embassy at a price of $10 each. Most of social Washington is glad to go to the British embassy even if it costs money—in fact, would pay a lot more than $10. But the party makes it appear that the British are not as well off economically as they say they are. . . . When the Germans got an offer of Red Cross aid from Norman Davis, they said, "No, thanks." . . . Dave Dubinsky will take his powerful International Ladies Garment Workers Union into the A. F. of L. in May. Dubinsky is intensely pro-third term while most of the A. F. of L. executive committee is not. Watch the fur fly.

ROOSEVELT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Sullivan, the efficient gentleman who so neatly served up New Hampshire Democrats for a third term, says he can go even further. If Europe and business continue as they are today, he says he can carry New Hampshire for Roosevelt next November.

Only time can tell whether Sullivan is right, but he is the man who helped Jim Farley be 100 per cent right regarding Roosevelt's reelection in 1936.

Farley predicted that FDR would carry 46 states—including the very doubtful state of New Hampshire—and before he made that prediction he had phoned John Sullivan.

"I'm giving out my final statement," he said, "and I can't afford to be wrong. What's the final word?"

"We're going to win," replied Sullivan.

Farley remonstrated, asked him if he was absolutely sure, finally issued his statement.

On election night, Sullivan phoned Farley from New Hampshire at 9 p.m. to report that the state looked safe for Roosevelt. Farley asked for hourly bulletins, and just before midnight, Sullivan phoned again to say that New Hampshire had a margin of 2,800 for Roosevelt. Then Sullivan went to bed.

At 3 a.m. his phone rang. It was Senator Joe Guffey of Pennsylvania, in Farley's New York headquarters. "What are you doing in bed at this time?" he asked. "Don't you know that Jim has staked his whole reputation on New Hampshire, and while you're asleep they could steal enough votes to defeat us?"

Sullivan remonstrated that the only uncounted districts were absolutely safe. Guffey demanded that he put guards around the ballot boxes all night until the final returns were in. So Sullivan phoned his henchmen, then reported back to Farley in New York.

"New Hampshire's absolutely safe for Roosevelt," he reported, "and before you hang up put your friend Guffey on the line. I want to tell you both something. I think you two are the most selfish birds in the United States. Here you have 45 states for Roosevelt and you keep the entire state of New Hampshire up just to get one more."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Whether his membership on the Dies committee has anything to do with it is conjectural, but it is a fact that Representative Noah Mason has no opposition in either the GOP or Democratic primary in his Illinois district. . . . Handsome Representative Jennings Randolph, who through his chairmanship of the District of Columbia committee is known as "mayor" of Washington, is being strongly urged to run for governor of West Virginia, but is holding off because of the bitter factional split among local Democrats. . . . Only 37, a former newsmen and professor, Randolph has his eye on the U. S. Senate. . . . Speaking of horse-and-buggy days, Henry Wallace points out that his father, secretary of agriculture under Harding, was the last member of the cabinet to give up a team of horses. ## A Bystander In Washington

BY JACK STINNETT

Washington—Secret: The Wheel-of-Fort-Prize club sent around a letter the other day with a line at the top, "personal and confidential." The next line was "to the public."

Stinnett

Politics: Talk in dry circles here is that the Prohibition party may try to draft Roger W. Babson, the economic sage of Wellesley, Mass., as its candidate for President. From national headquarters in Chicago, the offer already has gone to Mr. Babson. I hear. The statistician would easily be the best-known candidate the party ever had, might even run up more than 300,000 votes and thereby outstrip any other candidate the party ever put forward in vote-getting. His position as moderator of Congressional churches in the United States would help.

Geography: The business section and much of the principal residential district of Washington is in the capitol's backyard. Many Washingtonians go weeks and months without ever seeing the front of the capitol.

Diplomacy: Ambassador Joe Kennedy's intimations before he went back to England that it might be all right with him if somebody took over his job before very long has started another guessing bee. Most often guessed, Secretary of War Woodring.

Information Bureau: Lewis Deschler, House parliamentarian. He answers about 500 questions a day, keeping the representatives straight on what they can and can't do, so far as the rules are concerned.

Census: Secretary Ickes jumped the gun on the census bureau. He boys in Death Valley national park in California have been taking a census for months—of desert big-horn sheep. The boys report it's proof of the old soporific, too. Count a couple of big-horns and you're so weary you can't hold your eyes open.

History: April 15 being the 75th anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln, I went up to the capitol today to search out the catastrophe in which the body of the Civil War president lay in state in the capitol rotunda—and found it—George Washington's tomb!

Far down in the sub-basement of the capitol, directly below the center of the dome, a simple crypt that was intended to house for all time the bodies of George and Martha Washington. Its walls are white-washed brick. An arched entrance is barred by iron gates, held together by a ponderous, but modern, lock. On the wall at the left of the entrance is the Congress resolution of 1793 providing for construction of the tomb. On the wall opposite is a list of the 11 men whose bodies have been placed in Lincoln's bier. One of the honored dead is nameless. The unknown soldier.

The catafalque itself, a simple 11-by-6-foot, table-like structure of rough pine boards covered with black cloth, is the only thing in the tomb. Two years ago, to protect it from dust and moisture, the bier was placed in a glass case, where it will remain until it is used again.

Other than Lincoln and the unknown soldier, the men whose remains have rested on the bier are: Thaddeus Stevens, Charles Sumner, James A. McMillan, Maj. P. C. L'Efant, Admiral Dewey, Warren G. Harding and William Howard Taft.

The bodies of George and Martha Washington were never moved to capitol tomb, because, in 1832, when the tomb was ready to receive them, John A. Washington refused permission for transfer of the first president's remains. The reason . . . Washington in his will provided for construction of a new vault at Mount Vernon and specifically expressed his wish that he and his family be buried there.

Except for an occasional congressman or senator, who knows of the presence of the tomb and brings some friend to see it, it is hardly ever visited. It's not on the capitol sight-seeing itinerary. Of all the historic rooms in Washington, it is the least known.

Just a Step Behind the News

By Dave Boone

What Hitler said to Mussolini and vice versa would make interesting reading today. Those boys certainly didn't meet on the frontier just to tell each other that they had seen the first robin.

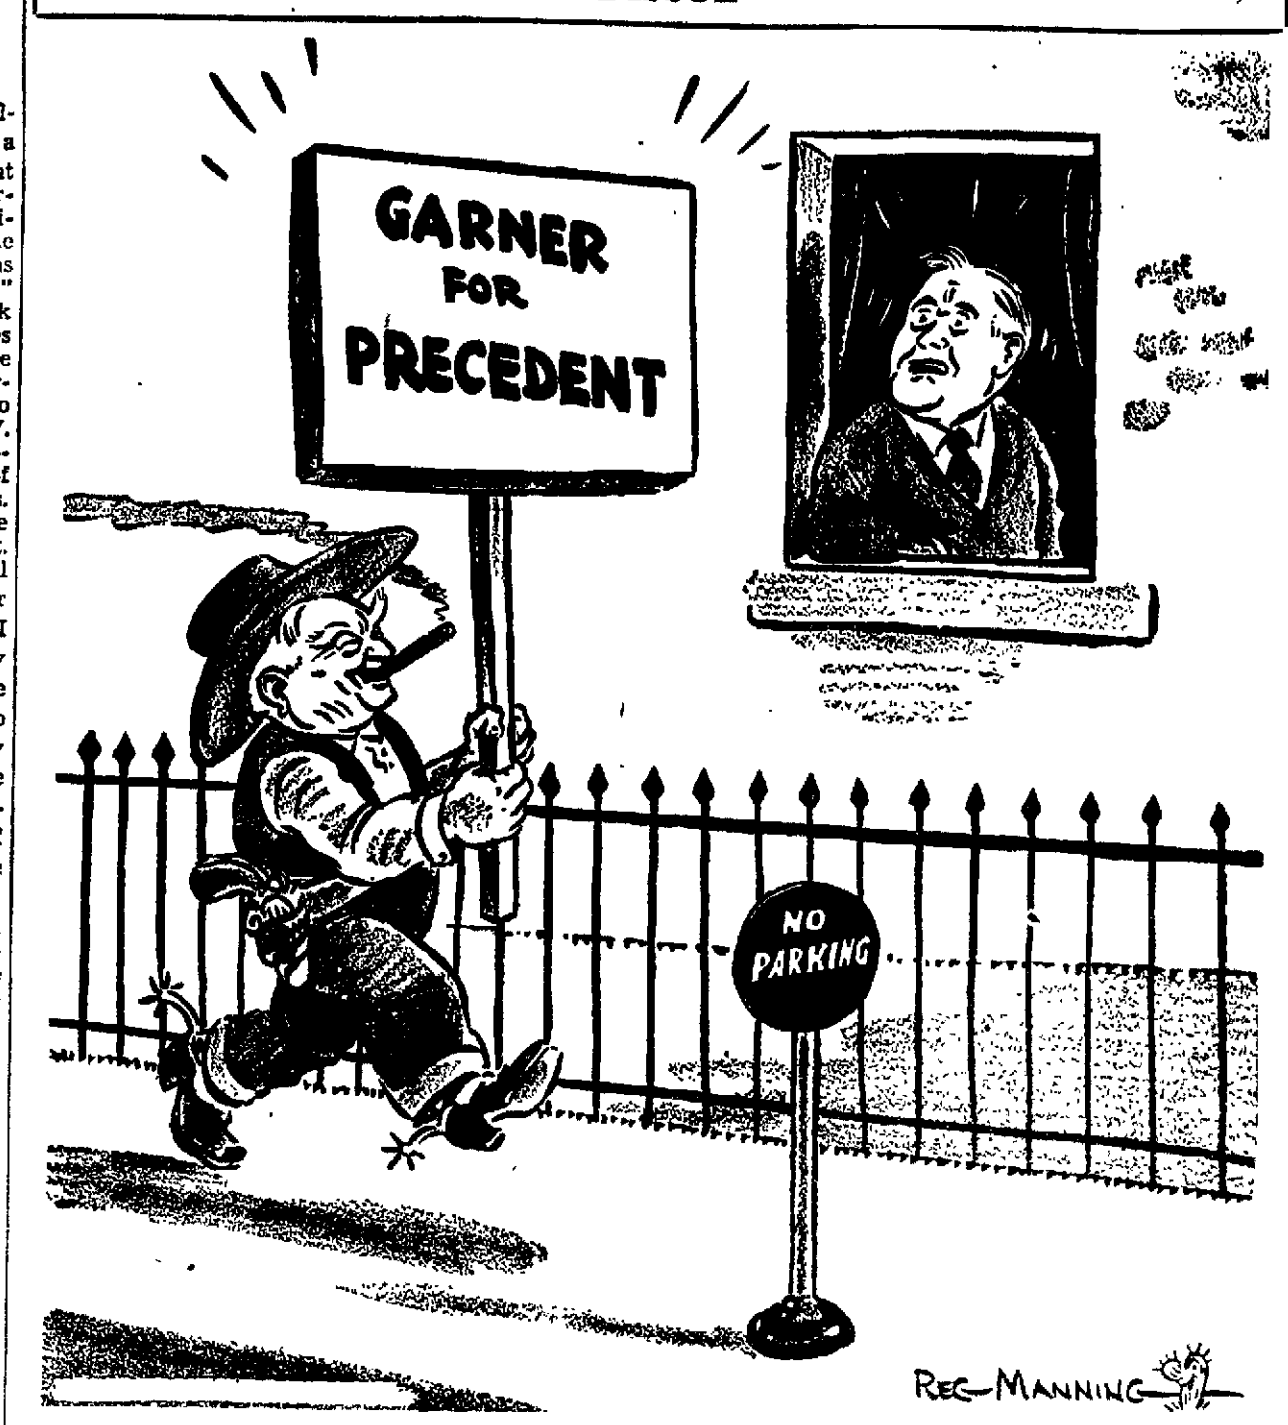

When Adolf and Benito confer the world gets as nervous as the fans do when a screwy southpaw pitcher goes into a huddle with a third-string catcher with the bases full and the count three and two. There's no way of telling what a pair like that may be up to.

Hitler may have just wanted to see his axis partner face to face to find out for certain whether he was sitting the war out for keeps or whether he is subject to an SOS. On the other hand Mussolini may have insisted on the meeting because he thought it time he got back into the newsreels.

That something big is going to happen in Europe this week seems to be an all-around hunch. Some folks think it will be a peace development. Others think it may be a battle. I don't think either way. I think it's a stringing along of the Hitler type would outrage the world by launching any blitzkrieg in Holy week.

Those whom the gods would destroy they first make dictators. But even a dictator has flashes of common sense and decency.

THE ISSUE—

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Governor Julius P. Heel announces that, while he doesn't know exactly how it is to be done, married couples on the state pay roll will no longer be tolerated.

Wyngaard

And thus it is opened up once more the whole dreary, endless issue of working wives on which legislators, women's clubs, the civil service leagues, and state employees groups, not to mention the unorganized citizenry, have spent countless hours of debate in the last few years. Ever since a lean and argumentative Fond du Lac assemblyman, Maurice Fitzsimmons, Jr., the pipe smoking, bachelor beau brummed of the legislature introduced his anti-working wives legislation three or four sessions ago, the argument has been trotted out during dull seasons to set capitol tongues to wagging.

POPULAR CAUSE

Wiser administration men know that any ban such as the governor suggests is clearly illegal. The attorney general has several times said so. A number of Wisconsin counties where the same idea appeared likely to carry within the last year were halted by opinions from the attorney general's office, which were able to quote high court decisions in other states. They know too that discrimination against female employees because of their marital status is inconsistent with the civil service principle, and equal rights for women. But above all they know that the argument, however well legally, is a tremendously powerful and popular one among the average men and women of Wisconsin.

They know that it is easy to arouse a bitter resentment among less favored folks by citing a few examples of high salaried married women with husbands, and maybe children, also in gainful employment, either in public or private work.

It is easy to pick some flagrant examples in order to appeal to that popular feeling. In Madison, as in other cities, there are unemployed and there are low-salaried men supporting families.

There are instances when both husband and wife work in state departments. There are instances of mothers at work for the state who have husbands and grown children gainfully employed elsewhere. It is hard to say how many married people work for the state, for the bureau of personnel has never been required to ascertain marital status, but there are enough of them to make the argument perpetually bitter, and therefore a permanent fixture of state politics.

Nothing will be done about it, because of the clear mandate of the constitution and court interpretations of it. But that is not to say that the question will be dropped. Hell's friends see here a handy subject for speech-making, as have other politicians before him.

We will continue to hear about it, through the next campaign and after, until the married wives resign their jobs, or until everybody else in the state is so situated economically that their employment will no longer inspire envy.

MR. KEEFE

As this department suggested several weeks ago, Congressman Frank Keefe of Oshkosh will seek reelection to the house of representatives instead of opposing Senator LaFollette.

There are two main reasons for his decision, according to his friends. Keefe is just another freshman. Keefe is ambitious, and next year he sees himself in a more important position than an ordinary middle-western congressman. With his voice, at his aggressiveness, and the benefit of previous experience in the house, he may be right.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

HEADACHE WISHED ON YOU

One reason why women are more subject to headache and backache with various disorders of pelvic organs than men are men with pelvic troubles, is the morbid obsession known as "female weakness." This notion has been wished on women from the dark old days almost up to the present time—in the last year or two lying on the label has not been encouraged by the government. It seems to make even the innocent, credulous, ignorant prospect hesitate, no matter how extravagantly you lie about the nostrum in your come-on literature, when she finds no such assurance of wonderful benefits on the label. Labels these days rather give the makers and vendors of female weakness nostrums headache. It is the first time, since that doughty fighter for honesty in the food and drug trade, Dr. Wiley led the attack on the evil, that the government has worried the fakery even a little. It really begins to look as tho the dear old days of rank swindle in the medicine business are gone forever.

In the preceding talk about headache I said that the real cause of headache, and backache as well, in women with any of the various pelvic disorders that may be associated with "female weakness" is undirected, anxiety, worry. I am positive about this because it is the everyday experience and observation of physicians that women having such pelvic disorders generally complain of no backache or headache if they are not informed of the abnormal condition. For this reason good doctors usually make no mention of these everyday minor or pelvic abnormalities when they find them in the course of a general examination.

For the benefit of feminine readers who may harbor any misunderstanding or doubt about this "female weakness" fancy let me repeat with all possible conviction that there is no foundation in fact for such belief. It is all a figment of morbid imagination. If your mind is troubled with any such worry don't go on moping and brooding about it in secret. Ask your doctor about it. If you are unable to do that, perhaps you would find it easier to consult a good woman physician. If you can't even do that, then state your trouble in your own way in a letter to me and I will give you the best opinion and advice I can—only please remember I am not qualified to make a diagnosis of an individual case, if that is the problem. Also do not forget to inclose a stamped envelope bearing your address if you expect a personal answer. I reckon I have special sympathy for any one who has been misinformed about such matters, for I recollect how the charlatans had me worried sick before I learned enough physiology to recognize the vicious deceit in the nostrum and quackery propaganda and realized how largely my own ideas had been derived from that source.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Skill

Six years ago had tonsil trouble at age 60. Doctor said operation not advisable owing to my physical condition. I wrote you for name of doctor skilled in diathermy method. I say in public, that Senator LaFollette will be an exceptionally hard man to beat, and the congressman who tries it may be retiring himself to private life. Further, Keefe will stand a better chance of attaining majority leadership, if the Republicans win this fall, in the house than in the senate, where he would be just another freshman. Keefe is ambitious, and next year he sees himself in a more important position than an ordinary middle-western congressman. With his voice, at his aggressiveness, and the benefit of previous experience in the house, he may be right.

You sent me to Dr. . . . . He treated me. Since then three different doctors have examined my throat, said it is as clean as a job as they've ever seen.

(H. M. E.)

Answer—Thank you. Skill is the factor that counts, whatever the method used. Too many doctors who have undertaken diathermy extractions have no ahead hammer and tones, without proper instruction in the technique by a physician who is a master of the method. That accounts for the clapping in instances where the patient cheers the operator on the centimetric plane.

Tic
Son got the habit, while wearing glasses, of pushing the glasses up by wrinking his nose. Now that he no longer wears glasses he continues to blink and wrinkle his forehead as a habit. He is 14. (Mrs. F. L. M.)

Answer—Tic or habit spasm. Pay no attention to it. Feed the boy optimal daily rations of calcium and vitamin D. Let him take one grain of quinine sulfate each night and morning, in pill, tablet or capsule. Let him practice expression for five minutes before the mirror morning and evening, that is, expressing various emotions histrionically, but refraining carefully from the blinking and forehead wrinkling during the seance. Of course these exercises in expression and inhibition should be done in private.

'Serve It Hot' Is Haresfoot Club's 1940 Spring Show

University All-Male Troupe Will Appear In City April 18

"Serve It Hot" has been selected as the name for the University of Wisconsin. Haresfoot club's 1940 spring musical comedy, it was announced from Madison by Sydney Jacobson, Appleton, president of the club.

The show will appear in the Appleton High school auditorium Thursday night, April 18.

Clark Carnes of Appleton, senior in the university law school, and William Erin, LaCrosse, collaborated in writing the production.

Six Wisconsin cities, in addition to Appleton, will view the newly named production when it tours the state during the spring recess vacation period at the university. Opening in LaCrosse, April 15, the all-male theatrical troupe will show successively in Wausau, Green Bay, Appleton, Racine and Milwaukee. The production will be culminated in Madison with two presentations in the new million dollar Union theater April 26 and 27.

Concerning the escapades of a professor of domestic science on leave of absence from the University of Wisconsin while he seeks a famous but elusive chef and a recipe he possesses, the plot careens gaily through a Mardi Gras background. A cast of 11 students, three of whom portray "ladies" chorus of 16 "night club entertainers," pit orchestra and production staff will make an aggregate of 65 students accompanying the troupe. Haresfoot returns to Appleton after a lapse of a year, having last played here in 1938.

Law of Evidence to be Police School Subject

Captain Hubert Dax, Milwaukee, will speak on "The Law of Evidence, Arrests, Searches and Seizures" at the police school Wednesday at the Appleton Vocational school. The school is one of a series being sponsored by the Wisconsin Chiefs of Police association in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. About 90 policemen in the Appleton area are attending the schools.

Gullickson to Confer With G.O.P. Chairmen

Dr. F. L. Gullickson, state Republican chairman, is expected to Appleton tonight for a conference with county chairmen in the Eighth district and District Chairman Elmer Honkamp. The county executive committee, which met yesterday noon at the Hotel Appleton, instructed Dr. C. L. Kolb, county chairman, to call a county-wide organization meeting.

Plumbing Inspector's Fees $41 in February

Fees collected by the city plumbing department during February totaled $41.50, according to the monthly report of the inspector, Walter D. Van Ryzin. During the month he issued 18 plumbing permits, a permit for a new sewer and 11 heating permits. The inspector made 26 roughing inspections and 18 final inspections during the month.

Physician Treats 122 Cases During February

The city physician, Dr. F. J. Huberty, last month treated 122 cases, according to his monthly report. Included were 107 relief cases, 5 city employees, 1 member of the police department, one member of the fire department and 8 inmates at the city home. One major operation was performed and 12 relief patients were sent to dentists.

Council Expects Report Tonight On Sale of Mill

Progress of Negotiation May be Aired at Adjourned Meeting

Kaukauna—A report on the progress of negotiations with a Chicago firm for the sale of the Outagamie mill is expected to be given tonight as the council holds its adjourned meeting at the municipal building.

On March 5, at an informal meeting of aldermen, utility commissioners and other city officials, it was agreed to sell the property to Sangamon Paper Grading company, for $400,000. A contract embodying the terms agreed upon was to be drawn and sent to the company. Under these terms the property is to have an assessed value of $400,000 and the mill must be operated as a paper product, with the purchaser to retain possession unless sold to a concern which will continue paper manufacture. The new firm has stated, through Samuel J. Cohen, secretary-treasurer, that it intends to manufacture a kraft wrapping paper from waste kraft paper collected from paper box factories.

Would Make Repairs
The company would make repairs on the mill's two paper machines, which have not been used for several years. The city bought the mill in July of 1937 for back taxes, acquiring in the process the right to 32 per cent of the water as it enters the government dam. This right has been traded to the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company for 100 per cent flow rights below the Badger power plant.

Also slated to come before the aldermen is a report of the poor committee recommending a revision of the method of handling the city's relief medical costs. The committee will recommend also that the position of relief director be placed on a permanent basis, not subject to yearly appointment by the mayor.

Search for Site Of Indian Chapel

Marker Will be Erected if Mission Location Is Found

Kaukauna—A search is being made near the east city limits for an early Indian mission chapel, erected in 1824. If the site can be determined a marker will be set up and dedicated as a feature of the city's sequentennial celebration this year. Ground used by the Indians for encampments is being examined for traces of the chapel. This territory includes land about the Thimpany Pulp and Paper company's lower mill, the sewage disposal plant and the Gun club across, according to Mayor Lewis F. Nelson.

The chapel was built by the Rev. Samuel Mazzuchelli, who was in charge of a mission among the Menominee Indians. A bill for the materials is on file showing the chapel was built at Grand Caucalin, Kaukauna's early name.

Wisconsin representatives in congress are working to secure approval of a WPA grant for restoration of the Grignon home, with the mansion to be emphasized in the sequentennial celebration. It was in 1790 that the city's first building was erected, just north of the Grignon home.

Tennessee Guests Are Entertained at Barbicour Residence

Kaukauna—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Barbicour entertained relatives and friends at their home Sunday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Barbicour, Jr., of Tennessee. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. John Verbeke, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lamers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garrow and Mrs. Mildred Miller. The group will meet April 1 at the home of Mrs. Miller.

St. Ann's Catholic Order of Foresters, court No. 226, will meet tonight at the church hall. Installation of officers will be held.

Mrs. Paul Garrow was hostess to friends at bridge last night at her home on route 1, with prizes awarded to Mrs. Robert Garrow and Mrs. Mildred Miller. The group will meet April 1 at the home of Mrs. Miller.

Fraternal Order of Eagles will meet at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at Odd Fellows hall. Committee reports will be given and plans for the April 3 initiation made.

Swedberg New Captain Of Basketball Squad

Kaukauna—Junior Swedberg, guard for the last two years, has been elected captain of next season's basketball team. Swedberg and two other juniors, Bill Allen and Karl Giordana, will be returning veterans.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the Jules Mertes barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. William Dowling is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 107. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

Lawrence Schuler Elected President Of Shipping Group

Kaukauna—Lawrence Schuler, route 3, Kaukauna, was elected president and William Ebben, route 1, Kaukauna, named vice president as Kaukauna Livestock Shipping association held its annual meeting yesterday at Grandview hotel. Theodore Van Vreede, route 2, is secretary-treasurer. Schuler succeeds Peter Kauth, route 3, president the last six years. New directors chosen were Ebben, Schuler and Kauth, with other board members Theodore Eiting, Mike Lunak, route 3, Herman Krueger and Theodore Van Vreede, route 2. Schuler reported on a meeting of equity sales associations at Milwaukee in January.

Allies, Germany Stalemated In Struggle to Get Neutrals On Their Respective Sides

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY

Washington (U. P.)—The Russo-Finnish peace treaty is further evidence that the important war game these days is "Neutrals! Neutrals! Who's got the neutrals?"

Not just one neutral. All the neutrals. Particularly all the important neutrals.

Glance back to the beginning of this war.

The Germans allowed war to overtake them only after they had forged a ring of neutral states around the Reich.

Beginning at the North, and turning clockwise, Hitler last September could gaze with inward satisfaction on neutral Scandinavia, the Baltics, Russia, the Balkans, Turkey, Italy, Switzerland, and the low countries.

That left the Germans with but one hole to plug—a 150-mile gap hard against the French border. They plugged it with the West wall.

Allies' Problem Tougher
The allies had no such simple, concentrated problem. There was a besieging action, requiring a Hydra-headed offensive. For it was they who declared the war. The four main points of their offensive were these:

1. They manned the Maginot line, stalemating the Germans there.
2. They established a blockade around Germany where possible, denying both entrance and egress of supplies and trade on the west and south.
3. They encouraged and deliberately planted propaganda within Germany to foster internal disintegration.
4. They wooed the buffer neutral states with all the ardor of a lovesick young swain.

The headlines have been telling you a lot about this allied offensive. Also they have NOT been telling you a lot more. They have told you how the allies manned the Maginot. They have told you about the propaganda leaflets dropped in Germany from allied war planes. They have not told you about allied espionage work in Germany.

The headlines have shown you how the allies bought off Turkey with nearly $200,000,000 of loans, and guarantees against attack. They have related the ways the British buyers in the Balkans have been outbidding Germany for Balkan oil and grain.

The headlines have indicated clearly that the British blockaders at Gibraltar have favored the Italians right along. Despite a disagreement about coal, the British are about to talk over a trade agreement with Mussolini. You have also seen how the British and French have sympathized with the Pope in his peace efforts, while the Nazis, until recently, didn't give the Catholic church much room. You've even had evidence that the British are not ready to declare war against Russia, Germany's friend in the east.

Allies Tread Quietly
What's more important, the allies have refrained from taking violent steps to cut off Swedish ore and Rumanian and Russian oil from Germany.

Why? Because that means running roughshod over the very neutrals they're wooing. With the neutrals as jittery as they are these days, caveman tactics inspire terror with in their breasts, not tender response. With Germany across the street, what would Sweden do, if the allies deliberately forced their way through the Swedish countryside with troops to help Finland? Sweden would have to fight the British or expect a counter attack from Germany. Sweden would then become a bloody battleground.

What would Turkey do, if the British deliberately tried to get their warships into the Black sea to cut off Russian oil supplies, without so much as a "by your leave"? Turkey would have to resist, to keep from becoming a battleground before she wanted to.

Moscow And Peace
Allied tacticians and diplomats are smarter than that. They're telling the neutrals that the allies are fighting for the independence of European states, as well as their own skins. And they're trying to prove it, by not violently forcing the hands of a single neutral. That's the way to win the neutrals, in the long run.

The German high command has been unmindful of French-British tactics. Hitler has moved God up a peg or two in his public addresses, and demoted the pronoun "I." He's taken a daily slap in the face from the Catholic church over the Vatican radio, and sent Von Ribbentrop to Vatican City to reply with kind words.

Apparently Germany put pressure on Russia to leave some sort of independent state in Finland. There was on other reason why Moscow would offer peace to the Finns.

A further excursion into Scandinavia might embroil Russia in the European war, which is contrary to Stalin's long-term policy of waiting until Europe is exhausted before making his play for power in the west.

A Tie—So Far
It's all in the game of "Neutrals! Neutrals! Who's got the neutrals?" At the moment the struggle for neutrals is still a stalemate.

Sweden, Russia, some of the Balkans, and maybe Italy are still "sympathetic" with Germany, for their own reasons. Rumania, Turkey, and some of the Balkans face the other way, for their own reasons.

It is true that peace in the Baltic can do the allies no good whatever. For it can release Germany and Russia from that diverting struggle and permit them to carry out their economic barter arrangements.

But there's little the allies can do about it now except make gestures. For their game with the neutrals is not a short-term affair. It is only beginning.

Ultimately the aim of the allies is to get the neutrals on their side, and fighting in the front lines all around the German circle—fighting enthusiastically, and with the bolstering morale of Franco-British aid.

But it is doubtful that the British and French allies are yet ready to scatter their own man-power all around the German circle, instead of concentrating on the Maginot line.

For it would be too late to lock the door on the Maginot line after the Germans had broken through.

28 Candidates for City Offices File Papers With Clerk

Four Aspirants in Field For Third Ward Aldermanic Job

Kaukauna—Twenty-eight candidates have filed papers for the April 2 election, according to Lester J. Brenzel, city clerk. Monday was the last day for filing.

The race for Third ward aldermanic post developed into the closest, with four candidates in the field. They are T. L. Seggelink, incumbent, James T. Hanby, William Galmbacher and Dan Hennessey, Jr., Fred Konrad, Third ward supervisor, is challenged by Max H. Streich.

In the First ward Jule Mertes, incumbent, is opposed for the aldermanic post by Al A. Hartzheim, former Second ward councilman. Supervisor L. J. Faust is opposed by Anton Berkers, George Probst, Second ward alderman, is running against Frank Mitchell, while the Second ward race for supervisor shows J. B. Delbridge, incumbent, and Leo H. Schmalz.

Two Unopposed
Raymond Nagel, Fourth ward alderman, and Frank Femal, Fifth ward councilman, have no opposition. The Fourth ward supervisor job lies between John Corcoran, incumbent, and Richard Lehrer. Running for supervisor in the Fifth ward are Peter Reichel, incumbent, and Joseph Bayorgoon.

Three are seeking the two vacancies on the board of education. Edward P. Reinick, and Marshall D. Bayorgoon, incumbents, and Frank M. Charlesworth. Mayor Lewis F. Nelson, George C. Egan and William J. Ganter make it a triangular mayorality race. Unopposed are Lester J. Brenzel, city clerk; Mrs. Mary Hooyman, treasurer; Joseph Dietzler, assessor; H. F. McAndrews, attorney.

The warrant was based on an affidavit sworn to by a local bank official.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons out of your blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffing under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years, they give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

In the guessing contests, Mrs. Walter Mentzel and Mrs. Edward Hilker took prizes. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dalum were hostesses to a birthday party for their son Arnie's eleventh anniversary Sunday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Timmreck, Mr. and Mrs. William Volz, Mr. and Mrs. August Stiengraber, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Affeldt, Mr. and Mrs. Ardie Affeldt, Ernest Timmreck, Alvin and Melvin Timmreck, Herbert Helms and Bette Towne. Prizes in cards went to Mrs. Ervin Martin, Arthur Affeldt, Ervin Martin and Ardie Affeldt respectively. Mrs. Dalum served a lunch after the game.

Mrs. Ernest Timmreck was called to Milwaukee Saturday by the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lester Jepson. The funeral was held there Monday afternoon.

Those who thought prices were too low were asked: "What do you consider a fair price?" The degree of dissatisfaction among various farm groups is shown by the various replies, when compared with what the farmer has actually been receiving for his products on the farm:

All Farmers 36% No
Wheat Growers 25% 75%
Corn Growers 45% 55%
Hog Raisers 11% 89%
Cotton Growers 11% 89%
Tobacco Growers 32% 68%

The figures represent averages in all cases, and represent a combined price for various types of the same product, such as No. 2 red wheat, No. 1 dark wheat, etc., as calculated by the Department of Agriculture.

One reason so many U. S. farmers approve of the New Deal's farm program, the Institute's surveys show, is that government benefit checks have helped to supplement income from lagging farm prices.

Parity Price Wallace's Goal
The goal of Secretary Wallace's farm program has been to obtain for U. S. farmers a so-called "parity" price—that is, a price which represents the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar in nonagricultural products in the "normal" period 1909-14. Congress is now considering a Senate provision which would give more than $200,000,000 to help make up the difference between the "parity" price and the actual price on the farm, for farmers

Majority of Farmers Declare They Don't Get 'Fair Prices'

By Institute of Public Opinion
Princeton, N. J.—All through the depression the great problem of the U. S. farmer has been how to get a better price for his principal crops—how to maintain his standard of living in a world market glutted with excess wheat, cotton, meat and other farm products.

Even now, after seven years of New Deal farm measures, an institute survey shows that farmers in nearly all major branches of American agriculture are receiving substantially less than what they themselves consider a "fair price."

Farmers in all sections of the United States were asked: "What is your chief cash crop or product?" They were then asked whether they believed the price a fair one. Nearly two farmers in every three declared the price was too low, the greatest dissatisfaction being shown by cotton and hog farmers—cooperating with the government's crop program. How closely the so-called parity prices compare with the farmer's idea of a "fair price" in such commodities as wheat, cotton and tobacco is shown in the following figures:

	Farmers' Idea of Fair Price (Feb. 15)	Parity Price (Feb. 15)
Wheat	$1.12	$1.13
Corn	.69	.82
Hogs	.08	.09
Cotton	.15	.16
Tobacco	.18	.15

Chances Increase For Resumption of Jap-Russo Combat

Soviet-Mongol Troops Have Advanced Be- yond Truce Line

BY RUSSEL BRINES

Tokio—Chances for renewed Japanese-Soviet border fighting in the spring are believed here to be increased by three new developments.

1. Despite heavy snows, Japanese troops have been busy constructing a railroad spur behind Lake Bor, on the Manchoukuo-Outer Mongolia border, where numerous air battles were reported last summer.

2. Soviet-Mongol troops have advanced five miles beyond the point they held at the time of the Nomonhan truce last September and have erected heavy gun emplacements overlooking the new rail spur.

3. By their latest drive into Inner Mongolia, Japanese troops are within flying distance of Outer Mongolia and of Ningxia where an undetermined number of Soviet forces are reported. Air fields now are being established.

No Fighting In Winter

Meanwhile, the army has announced officially "scores of illegal Soviet entries" on the Manchoukuo-Soviet border to the north. These incidents, which failed to provoke fighting, were insignificant in themselves, but may indicate that Soviet patrols are becoming active again in advance of favorable weather.

During their seven years' border intermittent fighting, Japanese and Soviet troops have avoided activities during the severe winters.

One of the reasons ascribed for the "vest-pocket war" at Nomonhan last summer, in which the Japanese admitted 18,000 casualties, was the Soviet desire to prevent fructification of a railroad along the disputed Khalka river.

Present construction reportedly is considerably north of last year's battlefield, indicating the spur is intended as a military line.

Both Sides In Position

Soviet outposts are in position now more deeply in the territory claimed by Manchoukuo than they were preceding the Nomonhan clash which began with a Japanese attack to drive them across the Khalka.

This factor, potentially explosive in itself, indicates a Soviet warning that it does not intend to neglect the Outer Mongolian front.

To the south, in Inner Mongolia Japanese troops now are in their best position to attack the Russian supply line to Chungking.

Goodland Suggests Stores Close During Passion Hours, Friday

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., in a statement issued today requested business places to close from 12 to 3 o'clock Good Friday afternoon whenever possible. He urged people to attend services during those hours.

Following is the mayor's statement:

"In view of the fact that Christian people of many different denominations in the city have suggested that it would be fitting and proper to give some public expression of the fact that Good Friday is a universal memorial to a great religious event, and in view of the fact that Catholic and Protestant churches in Appleton are holding services from 12 to 3 o'clock, and have further suggested that it would be worth while to abstain from our business occupa-

Lenten Thought For Today

Tuesday, March 19. Master, we know that thou art true and teachest the way of God in truth. . . . for thou regardest not the person of man. (Literally, Thou regardest not the face of men.) Read Matthew 22:15-21.

Even Jesus' antagonists knew the secret of this wisdom and His strength. He looked, in this vivid phrase, beyond the faces of men into the face of God, and there found approval and support.

How naturally we study the faces of others for approval or disapproval. Their smiles flatter us, their looks of interest encourage us, their coldness chills us. Strange faces make a lonely world, dark faces make love's world. No wonder we search them for guidance and shape our words or deeds in subtle response to their wordless suggestion.

The wise know the peril of this, the brave and far-seeing look beyond the faces of men. They court no human favor, they look toward nobler issues and let the faces about them register as they may. These and not the face-servers are those to whom we turn in our perplexities and upon whom the ages wait.

Prayer: Almighty God, without whose light search is vain, we bless Thee for the reflected light of Thy love in faces of our friends. Grant as we search them we shall find understanding and favor, but in any time of trial, give us courage if need be, to look beyond them and find in Thy favor our sure stay and guiding light. Amen.

tions for a part of the day in honor of the occasion—

"I John Goodland mayor of Appleton do hereby request that wherever possible places of business close from 12 to 3 o'clock on Good Friday, and that our citizens in those hours, or at any other hour of the day more convenient to their church services, either attend their several churches or otherwise in their homes engage in some religious exercises befitting the day."

Magnus Will Talk At Farm Institute

Program Will be Held at Shiocton High School Thursday

J. F. Magnus, county agricultural agent, will talk on "Outagamie County Farm Problems" at a farmers' institute at Shiocton High School Thursday. The program will open at 10.30 in the morning and will continue through the afternoon. The Shiocton Community club will provide a lunch for the visitors at noon.

Magnus also will give a talk on "Frigid Locker Plans." Other speakers on the men's program will include James Lacey, Glen Vergerot and Max LaRock of the college of agriculture, and Hugh Alberts, agricultural instructor at Shiocton High School.

Miss Irene Skutley, county home demonstration agent, will talk on "The Home Demonstration Program in Outagamie County" and on "Food Makes a Difference" at the women's program. Miss Marie Klein, county nurse will speak on "Our Health Program." Students of the high school will present an entertainment program.

Dupont Town Officers To Have No Opposition

Marion—The voters of the town of Dupont held their caucus at the city hall Saturday. All the present officers will be on the ballot without opposition: William Brandenburg, chairman, Harry Moericke, supervisor, Paul Knaack, supervisor; William Zillmer, clerk; Elmer Piehl, treasurer; John Reisenberg, assessor; Herman Kersten, constable.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Butth, sons Billy and Bobby and Miss Alice Butth of Shawano, were guests Sunday at the H. G. Meyer home.

The WPA project, which included the clearing of stumps out of the pond, has been closed and a crew of twenty-five men has been transferred to Manawa where they will work on the water works project.

Marion students presented a program Saturday afternoon over station WLBL at Stevens Point. The program consisted of a selection by a male quartet, a one-act play, an address by Mayor Bengs and a cornet trio by three high school boys.

The elementary grades of the Marion school presented a spring program in the school gymnasium Friday evening. Each room presented a complete number.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceylon Leake of Burlington arrived here Saturday and will spend the week at the Mrs. Agnes Leake and Mrs. Arnold Maes home.

Sealer Adjusts Two Scales, Condemns One

Two scales were adjusted and one was condemned for repairs out of 53 scales of various types tested by the city sealer of weights and measures, Joseph A. # Clapper Sees Grave Danger In Bill Now Before Congress

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—Those who are concerned about rumors of wire tapping, and about the danger of inquisitorial activities by the government, and about the abuse of authority as dramatically shown in the seven-month income-tax investigation which is resulting in the slow-motion political assassination of presidential candidate Paul V. McNutt, might well keep an eye on another danger.

It is the tricky bill by Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia which has passed the house and has been reported favorably by the senate judiciary committee. By its title, the bill seems only to be aimed at persons who attempt to stir up military disobedience. But there is another section of the bill dealing with subversive activities that can be stretched to cover practically anything said that you don't like.

This makes it a crime to advocate overthrow of the government by force or violence, to circulate literature to that effect, to belong to any organization having such purpose, or to justify or defend the unlawful killing or assaulting of any public officer.

Clapper

On casual reading the purpose of these provisions seems thoroughly laudable. Existing law already punishes actual acts of violence against the government and conspiracy to overthrow the government. In case of any direct action, or any conspiracy to attempt such action, we have plenty of law to use on the participants.

The Smith bill which has passed the house goes much further. It applies to utterances alone, whether they are likely to lead to overt activities or not, and it can easily be construed to apply to criticism of political and economic conditions. In a time of hysteria, no one would be safe who expressed an opinion that somebody in authority disagreed with.

If that sounds like an extreme statement, recall what actually happened under the espionage act, which was on its face designed to prevent interference with military operations. It prohibited false reports made with the intention of interfering with the armed forces or helping the enemy, prohibited stirring up insubordination in the military forces, and prevented interfering with recruiting.

Would Provide Weapon for Political Intolerance

Under those provisions, the following were held in various cases to be violations, according to a summary prepared by a lawyer interested in the subject:

Advocating heavier taxation instead of bond issues.

Urging that a referendum should have preceded our declaration of war.

company representing the city's share of license tax on gross receipts of the firm withheld from previous payments pending the conclusion of litigation on the firm's telephone rate in Wisconsin. ## Characterization, Pantomime Replace Scenery, Properties In College Play Production

BY NELL CHAMBERLAIN

GOOD characterization and effective pantomime can take the place of scenery, properties and make them seem unnecessary, even a hindrance to the mood and action of a play, it was demonstrated by the Lawrence College theater group in the production of "Our Town" which was presented last night at Lawrence chapel. With a stage devoid of furnishings with the exception of a couple of tables and chairs and two trusses for those who must have scenery, a well-rehearsed cast which seemed entirely sympathetic with the mood of the play and fully cognizant of its dramatic possibilities, took their audience with them across a span of years in Our Town, and helped them to feel the joys and sorrows and experience the living and dying of the everyday people there. The play will be repeated at 8:30 this evening.

It was something of a shock at first to see an almost bare stage with curtains drawn aside, and realize that it wasn't just a lapse of memory on the part of the stage hands in forgetting to set the stage, but that this was the setting. Then after the stage manager strolled out and began to take the chairs off the tables and put the few pieces of furniture in some sort of order, it was a little disconcerting to have him casually begin to talk to the audience.

Stage Manager Explains
But after the first shock had worn off, it was pleasant to be taken into the confidence of the stage manager, to be allowed to imagine the kind of houses and furniture Editor Webb or Dr. Gibbs had, and to picture for oneself the wind-swept hill on which the weary citizens of Our Town slept after they had laid down the burden of life. It was easy to think in terms of the homespun language of the state manager and to get into the mood and tempo of the easy-going life in the village where the arrival of the 5:45 train, choir practice at the Congregational church, and high school graduation were events of note.

Quentin Barnes, Oshkosh, did a fine piece of work as the stage manager, although a bit difficult to hear and understand in a few spots early in the play. His was the difficult role of interpreter, his graphic explanations of the layout of the town and his down-to-earth comments on its people paving the way for the unfolding of the story by the actors. His easy-going casual manner set the pace for the rest of the cast.

It would be hard to select any one person as more outstanding than the others, for each member of the cast, no matter how small his part, contributed a piece to fit perfectly into the pattern like a block in a patchwork quilt. The heavier roles, however, were carried by Ellen Marty, Appleton, as Emily Webb, John Disher, Iron Mountain, Mich., as George Gibbs, Charles Koerble, Milwaukee, as Editor Webb, James Orwig, St. Louis, Mo., as Dr. Gibbs, Jane Grise, Austin, Minn., as Mrs. Gibbs and June Selvy, Green Bay, as Mrs. Webb.

Roles Well Taken

A brief but excellent bit was that of Glen Lockery, Rosholi, as Professor Willard, a part which could easily have been overplayed. William Hirst, Wauwatosa, was good as the choir director, Simon Stimson, and the parts of Rebecca Gibbs and Wally Webb were well taken by Sallie Rothchild and Carroll Hartwig, both of Appleton.

Others who help to present a cross-section of life in Our Town were John Brunell, Houghton, Mich., as Joe Crowell, the paper boy; Orlando Holway, Hudson, Wis., as Howie Newsome, the milk man; Warren Parker, Ft. Atkinson, as Constable Warren; Evelyn Niehr, Milwaukee, as Mrs. Soames; Jane Mockley, Whitefish Bay, George Garman, Eau Claire, and Betty Linquist, Oak Park, Ill., as people in the audience; Ruth Althaus, Shelbyville, Ill., as organist; Robert Levern, Sheboygan, as Sam Craig; George Gmelner, Appleton, as Joe Goodard; Jack Roddy, Chicago, as Ralph Dignan, Eagle, Wis., and Frank Hammer, Appleton, as assistant stage manager; and Lucille Dickson, Chicago, Mary Jane Hill, Columbia, Mo., Arthur Kaemmer, Kiel; Walter Schmidt, Appleton; Mary Ann Fink, Oak Park; Polly Hartquist, New London; Milton Prommer, Escanaba, Mich.; and James Sweet, Wausau, as people of the town.

Hostesses last night were Mrs. W. F. McGowan, Mrs. A. G. Koch, Mrs. Lena Hansen, Mrs. John Goodland, Jr., Mrs. George Krueger and Mrs. Walter Gmeiner.

Several events which Job's Daughters will have in April were planned at a meeting of the Bethel Monday evening at the Masonic temple. On April 21 the girls will observe their annual "go to church" Sunday by attending services at First Congregational church; on April 25 the group will sponsor a private roller skating party; and April 27 there will be a bake sale at Geenen's. A complete report was given on the dance held recently.

John R. Rose chapter, Order of De Molay, will confer the De Molay degree on 17 candidates at the meeting of Waverly lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, at 7:30 this evening at the Masonic temple. Neighboring De Molay chapters have been invited to attend. After the degree work there will be a social hour at which H. D. Purdy will present a magician act.

Lansing, Mich. —(P)—The state loan board has authorized the city of Ironwood to borrow $60,000 against unpaid taxes, specifying the loan would have to be repaid not later than Aug. 15. The city had asked for authority to borrow $100,000.

EASTER HATS FOR YOUNG LADIES

Gloria Jean of the movies has chosen four Easter bonnets. Here's the favorite — an old-fashioned navy blue straw bonnet trimmed with French flowers.

And she added this because she couldn't resist the red ribbon streamers tied under the chin. It's made of dark blue straw and has a red rosette to match the ties.

For a weekend ride in the country she chose "something casual in felt" beige in color, clipped of brim and spiked with little brown feathers at the back.

For Easter Saturday shopping she has a pert little pillbox made of felt in the new cadet blue and trimmed with a fluff of red feathers at the side.

Early Sees Little Chance for Peace

No Information Received To Show 11-Point Program Offered

Washington —(P)—Stephen Early, a presidential secretary, said today that on the basis of authoritative reports received by the American government, "peace headlines would appear to be very empty."

The White House aide asserted that no information had been transmitted to this government to support published stories that 11 points had been suggested as a basis for European peace at yesterday's conference between Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

Asked whether he could say anything about reports from Rome, Early replied:

"Nothing more than that I think you can say. On the basis of all authorized reports received by this government, which have been made available to the president and have been carefully read and analyzed by him, there seems to be no basis in fact for reports published in London, Paris, Rome, Berlin or other capitals that give an authoritative basis for peace; that the publication of those reports should not change the opinions of newspaper readers of this country and others by giving them hope for peace or cause for despair of peace."

"In other words," Early continued, "on the basis of authoritative reports this government has received from representatives through the world, particularly in Europe, peace

Illinois Lawyer Charges Horner Unfit for Office

ceedings be made upon the state's law officers and that, should they fail to ask a quo warranto writ, a citizen may file as an individual. Tenny said he acted as a "citizen and elector."

Tenny's notice said that unless the officials started the quo warranto action he would do so himself in the supreme court.

Governor Horner's illness of more than 16 months recently became an issue in the state's heated Democratic primary campaign. Stelle charged a "small clique" of the governor's associates had taken over control of the state. This the governor denied in a press conference last week.

Stelle is a candidate for the Democratic governorship nomination against Harry B. Hershey, the candidate backed by Governor Horner and the Kelly-Nash Chicago Democratic organization.

At the office of Attorney General Cassidy it was said a copy of Tenny's demand arrived today by registered mail.

"Political Speech" "This reads a little like a political speech," commented States Attorney Roberts, a Democrat. "I think it would be safe for you to assume that this office isn't going to do anything about it."

One of the points made by Attorney Tenny was that the state board of pardons and paroles had failed to submit to Governor Horner any reports or recommendations in recent months "by reason of the illness of Governor Horner."

"Demand had been duly made upon Lieutenant Governor John Stelle," the Tenny statement continued, "to assume and perform the functions and duties of the office of governor, but the said John Stelle has failed, refused and neglected to do so."

Tenny said the state constitution of 1870 requires that the lieutenant governor act in case of disability of the governor.

WOULD EXTEND TIME

Washington —(P)—Senator Shipstead (R-Minn.) introduced yesterday a bill which would extend for one and three years, respectively, from Aug. 7, the times for commencing and completing a bridge across the St. Louis river at or near Duluth, Minn., as authorized by congress last year.

CANUTE WATER brings lovely color to

gray hair

Safe!

If you have gray hair, simply wet it with Canute Water and allow to dry. A few applications, (all in one day, if desired) re-colors it completely similar to its former natural shade. Attention only once a month will keep it that way.

Curl your hair or get a permanent, if you wish. There's no interference. Neither will sunbathing, salt-water or shampooing disturb the color. Your hair remains clean and natural to the touch and looks natural in any light.

Skin Test Not Needed
Canute Water is pure, safe, colorless and crystal-clear. It has a remarkable record of 25 years without injury to a single person. It was also tested and proven perfectly harmless by a Noted Scientist in one of America's Greatest Universities.

No Other Product Can Make All These Claims
If it is any wonder that we sell more Canute Water than all other hair coloring preparations combined, 6 application size. $1.18

Burglars Fail in Attempt to Blast Open College Safe

Police Attempt to Link Them With Gang Operating in This Area

Lawrence college authorities today were wishing that the burglars who attempted to crack a safe in the administrative office on the second floor of the college library building last night had done a more thorough job.

The nitroglycerine blast tore off only the outer steel sheet of the door. The combination was knocked off the safe, and officials were wondering how to enter it to get records. No money was in the safe, they stated.

Entrance to the library building was gained through a window and the office door lock was forced open. Soap used by the burglars to plug the holes in the safe was littered about the room by the blast.

The burglars are believed to be the same who attempted to blast open a safe at the Wadsworth Service station on Highway 41 two miles north of Oshkosh in Winnebago county last night. They had as much success as they did at the college, with only the outer door of the safe being opened by the blast.

Police, who are investigating, also are trying to link the burglars with those who Sunday night carried away a heavy safe, containing $25, from the Bear Creek High school and entered the Shiocton High school.

Pretty Finnish Girl Tries to Aid Country; Helps Aviator Instead

Vincennes, Ind.—(AP)—An investigation by Sheriff Oscar Westfall brought out a story of how a pretty Finnish chambermaid in New York flew to Vincennes to help her aviator instead.

The sheriff, who withheld names of the principals except the girl's first name—Helmi—said the latter met the young man when she went to Finnish relief headquarters to give part of her $1,200 savings to the cause.

He proposed that they take a train back to Vincennes, buy an airplane here, fly it to British Honduras and go by steamer to Finland where he would join the air force.

Helmi put up the money. They came here, bought a $450 airplane and an outfit for the aviator.

He flew off with the plane—and most of her money. Helmi told the sheriff. The flier was caught at Memphis, Tenn.

The girl got back $275 from the aviator and $300 from sale of the plane.

Leaving for New York, Helmi said she wouldn't prosecute him because she liked him.

He thanked her and, released, went back to his wife in Illinois.

Parked Car Is Struck Twice on Same Fender

Marquette.—(AP)—Arnold Schmitt, register of probate, is telling this one:

Schmitt's car skidded into Lester Adams' parked car near the post office, hitting the parked car's left front fender and wheel.

Schmitt called Adams to say: "I hit your car this morning and I'll take care of it through my insurance company."

Said Adams: "Thanks much, but Warren Isenberg told me that he already was taking care of the damages."

Mystified, Schmitt investigated and found that Isenberg also had struck Adams' car about 15 minutes before he had—and in the same place, the left front fender.

Social Security Board Forms Appeals Council

Washington.—(AP)—The social security board announced the appointment of a three-member appeals council, 12 regional referees and a consulting referee to review rulings affecting the right of claimants or account holders under the old age and survivors insurance system.

Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer said yesterday that the appeals council, to be headed by Joseph E. McElvain, New York, would decide every claimant under the act who questioned the amount of his award and opportunity to be heard. Hearings will be informal and claimants need not employ counsel.

5 Women Members of House See Re-election

Washington.—(AP)—Five of the six women House members were in agreement on one subject—they want to be re-elected.

The five are Mrs. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio), Mrs. Mary T. Norton (D-N.Y.), Mrs. Caroline O'Day (D-N.Y.), Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Iowa), and Mrs. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill.).

The sixth, Mrs. Clara McMillan (D-S.C.), is still "thinking it over."

SAFE BLOWERS 'FAIL' AT COLLEGE

Lawrence college authorities today marked "failure" on the "report cards" of the burglars who last night attempted to blast open a safe in the administrative office in the college library building. The burglars succeeded only in tearing open the outer steel sheet of the safe door and fled with a big "zero" for their efforts. College authorities said that no money was kept in the safe and today were wondering how to enter it to get records. (Post-Crescent Photo)

New Push for Legislation To Revise Wage-Hour Law

Washington.—(AP)—A new push for legislation to revise the wage-hour law is on in the house. Whatever happens later in the session, the changes won't hit the floor for several weeks.

There are two reasons for delay. The house labor committee is just beginning serious work toward revamping the labor board. House leaders do not want anything to interfere right now. Secondly, there are four more appropriation bills to be debated. If the totals can be held down, congress will have accomplished its objective of staying off new taxes for this session.

The wage-hour problem is no simple one. There are at least 49 bills pending to exempt one or another kind of labor from the federal wage-hour standards. At least one proposal seeks to repeal the whole act.

Any bill brought to the floor to amend the original act throws the whole subject open to all kinds of changes unless it is guarded by a "gag" rule. Whatever may have been past practices in the house, Democratic Leader Rayburn has personally opposed "gag" rules as a matter of principle.

A few samples of the exemptions from wage-hour standards which are being sought are for various types of agricultural, clerical, lumber, telephone and small newspaper employees, workers for various poultry and agricultural cooperatives, handlers and processors of perishable farm and lumber products, hand cigar makers and placer miners.

By the time the advocates of all these changes get through firing at the law, its supporters are coming what fearful of the shape it will be in.

THE WEATHER

Forecast for Wisconsin

Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, occasional light snow to night; not quite so cold extreme north portion tonight, somewhat colder Wednesday.

General Weather Conditions

Rain or snow has fallen since yesterday morning over most sections east of the Mississippi river, but generally fair weather prevailed this morning over all the central and western portions of the country.

It was colder this morning over most of the central plains states and the northern plains states, but it was slightly warmer over the New England states.

Mostly cloudy weather is expected in this section during the next 24 hours, with light snow tonight, followed by colder Wednesday.

275 Hear County Citizenship Day Program Outlined

climax the program, Van Straten said.

Other talks on citizenship were given by Donald DuShane, Lawrence college faculty member; Mayor John Goodland, Jr., who gave the address of welcome; Supervisor George Schaefer, Greenville; and County Clerk John E. Hantschel, the latter reading a speech by Senator Mike Mack, who was unable to attend the meeting because of business at Madison.

"Local unit control in government is one of the most cherished of Wisconsin traditions," Senator Mack's talk read. "School district, township and county government in Wisconsin always has been considered the most democratic, and more responsive to the wishes of its citizens than that of any other state in the union."

"But in order to maintain this truly representative form of government we today have in Wisconsin, it becomes necessary in the face of increasing demands for centralization of government, that public discussions be held at which young men and women who have reached their twenty-first birthdays and who will for the first time exercise their right to vote this year, be given an opportunity to take part in forum meetings in their home communities."

"Through taking part in these public discussions, they will be given an opportunity to get a better understanding of the organization and operation of government and to get a deeper appreciation of democracy as a way of living."

Strength of Nation

Speaking on "Good Citizenship," DuShane said:

"United States is as strong as its citizens, as strong as our own faith, our will to work together—we alone can carry on the torch of liberty."

He quoted Plato in showing that the problems confronting the nation and world today are the same that faced nations and the world centuries ago.

Relating a discussion on government in one of his classes, DuShane said that the students framed what they thought went for the making of the best government under which to live and that further study showed it wanting.

"The skeletal structure of a perfect government was not enough," he stated. "It had to be clothed in wisdom, the idealism shown by our forefathers who drew up the constitution with belief in the goodness of man and faith in the common man; it had to have the essence of democracy, compromise; it had to have a sense of responsibility. An alert, informed, well-educated people are vital to democracy. Rights do not come from heaven, but are hard won. We also must be willing to fight to keep them."

Duties of Citizen

Supervisor Schaefer said the obligation of a good citizen was to be active in democracy and to live by the golden rule. Another duty of the good older citizen is to help the young citizen solve his problems and to find a place to be of service to the world. Schaefer said in discussing the unemployment situation which today is making it difficult for a number of young men and women to find work.

"Christ didn't come into the world to make things more easy, but to make them more glorious," he said.

Ben J. Roban, city superintendent of schools and chairman of the citizenship program, presided at the meeting. Community singing was led by Martin Van Rooy accompanied by Al Nitz. Instrumental music was presented by Edward Kies and Duane and Dalton Schoenig, New London, entertained with singing and tap dancing. The meeting opened with the giving of the pledge of allegiance and closed with the singing of "America."

A tour of the new high school building was made following the meeting.

Medicine Plant From China May Become U. S. Cash Crop

Brookings, S. D.—(AP)—As a result of the Sino-Japanese war, America's farmers may get another cash crop—ephedra sinica.

Ephedra is a Chinese shrub whose stems yield an alkaline drug, ephedrine, which is used in the treatment of such respiratory ailments as hay fever, bronchial asthma and head colds. The war cut off America's supply of the crude drug.

Dr. L. D. Hiner, professor of pharmacy at South Dakota State College, who has been experimenting with the plant, first brought a dozen seeds here in 1929 to investigate the shrub's possibilities as an anchor for wind-swept soil.

Test plots were planted and it was discovered that with proper care plants could be developed to furnish ephedrine in usable quantities. It was found that naturalized plants could produce as much as 1.64 per cent ephedrine as compared with the Chinese-grown shrub content of 1 per cent.

Though known in China for thousands of years as Ma Huang, the plant and its drug were scarcely known here 10 years ago. It is a large species of nearly leafless desert shrub found only in a wild state on the dry plains of China. It grows low to the ground and is harvested in much the same manner as hay.

Department of Commerce statistics show that imports of ephedra sinica in crude drug form reached nearly 2,000,000 pounds annually before 1937. It formerly sold for two and a half to three cents a pound, but in 1939 was listed as being worth 10 to 13 cents in bulk form.

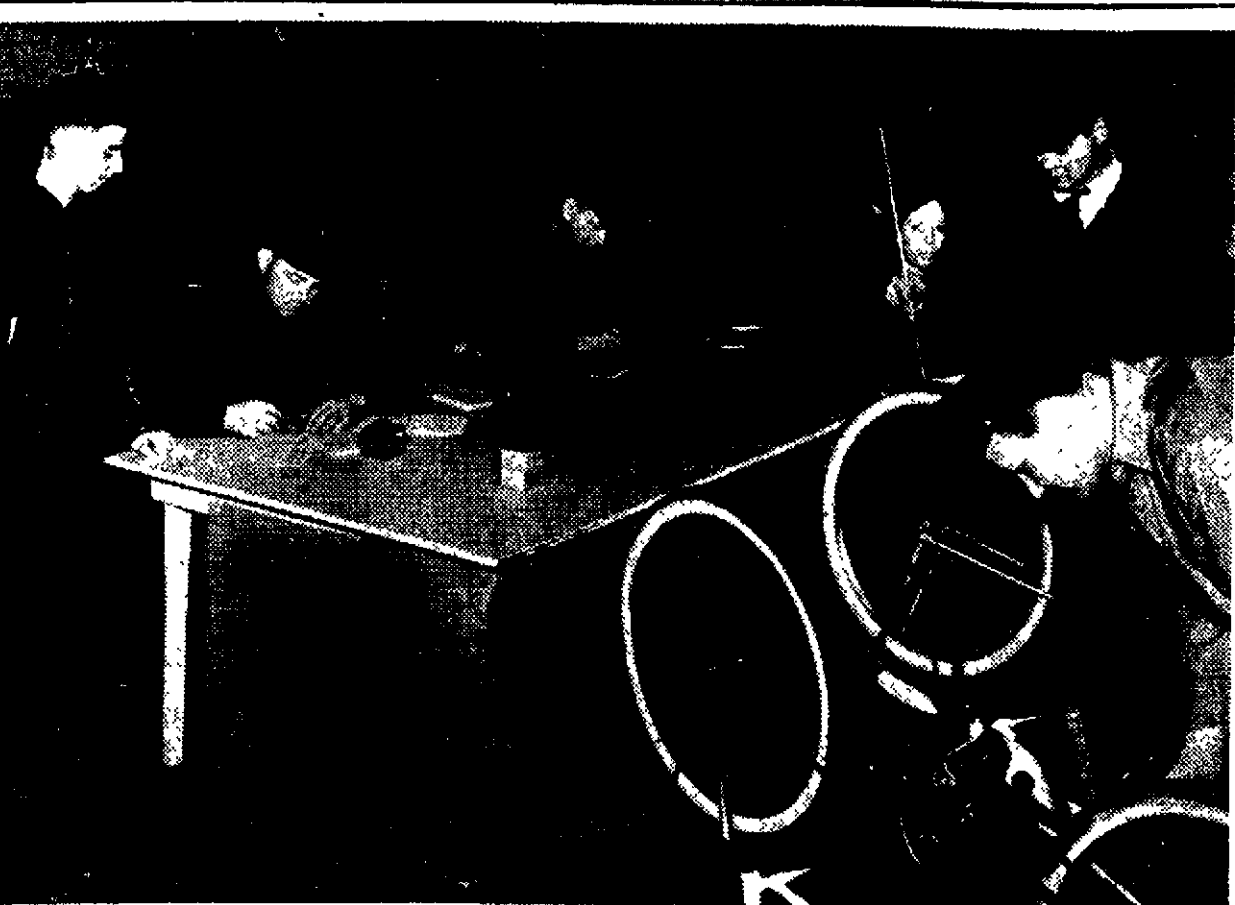

This year, a Federal research grant was made available for further work with the plant. Several acres will be planted at the South Dakota experiment station. Seeds grown there will be slowly introduced among farmers.

CHECK BICYCLES FOR MECHANICAL DEFECTS

City police yesterday began their annual mechanical check of all bicycles in the city. The machines must be mechanically perfect before police issue 1940 registration cards to the owners. After this week all owners must have 1940 bicycle tags to operate the machines in the city. The bicycle check-up is being made at the police station and the above picture was taken as police started the task. Left to right are: Jack Schindler, 327 W. ## Winter Weakens as Snow and Ice Melt

Mercury at 38 Degrees in City Today; Colder Wednesday, Report

Winter neared the end of its reign today, a monarch weakened and stunned by the effects of sunlight and mild temperatures.

The mercury was not quite up to yesterday's levels but only slightly below, reading 38 above at noon. There were fewer evidences of winter as streams of water carried away the remains of ice and snow, although the Milwaukee weather bureau forecast light flurries tonight.

The weatherman reported today that although spring is scheduled to take over tomorrow, temperatures may be "somewhat colder."

For the 24-hour period ended at 9 o'clock this morning the highest mark in the city was 42, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the "lowest" 28, at 6:30 this morning, according to Wisconsin Michigan Power company charts.

Houston and San Antonio, with 32 and Frankfurt, Mich., with 11 above, were the warmest and coldest places respectively in the nation yesterday, according to the Associated Press.

Charge of Cruelty Wins Woman Divorce

Geirude P. Vanden Boom, 32, Milwaukee, was granted a divorce from Theodore J. Vanden Boom, 35, Milwaukee, in circuit court of Judge Joseph R. McCarthy yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff charged cruelty and inhuman treatment. The couple married at Appleton July 16, 1929 and separated last month.

Officers of Medical Societies Will Meet

Officers of county medical societies of the sixth district of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin will meet at the Conway hotel tonight.

The officers will confer with Dr. Stephen Gavin, Fond du Lac, counselor for this district. About 15 doctors are expected to attend the meeting.

Sec Court Fight in Naming of Russell To College Faculty

New York.—(AP)—A court fight to block the $8,000-a-year appointment of Bertrand Russell as professor of philosophy at New York City college was foreshadowed today after the board of higher education overrode protests against the appointment by a vote of 11 to 7.

The court action was signaled when former Magistrate Joseph Goldstein, acting for critics of Russell's views on morals, served papers in a certiorari proceeding on Ordway Tead, chairman of the board, who championed Russell's cause.

The certiorari writ, scheduled for hearing March 27 in supreme court, seeks to annul the appointment on the ground that Russell lacks the necessary qualifications for a teacher as set forth in the state education law.

Despite a tempest raised over unconventional views on morals and marriage expressed in books written by the thrice-wed, twice-divorced British aristocrat, Tead refused to rescind his appointment after a stormy four-hour debate last night.

Work on Guard Rail to Be Resumed Wednesday

Work on the installation of the safety rail on Memorial drive bridge will be resumed Wednesday by street department workmen, according to Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer. The project was started several weeks ago but work was suspended because of the recent snow and cold weather. About 70 feet of the rail has been installed.

Pair Faces Charge of Stealing 25 Chickens

Raymond Meulemans, 22, route 2, Kaukauna, and Lawrence School, 20, Little Chute, waived preliminary hearing on a charge of stealing chickens when they were arraigned in municipal court of Judge Thomas H. Ryan this morning. They were bound over for trial within 30 days and were released under bond of $500 each.

The pair is charged with stealing 25 chickens from the barn of the Rose McDaniel farm, town of Kaukauna, last Friday night and of selling them to a butcher for $17.94.

Pedestrian, 87, Hurt in Accident

W. S. Lloyd Seriously Injured by Car at Street Intersection

W. S. Lloyd 87, Conway hotel annex, is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital with a broken left leg, shoulder and hand and multiple contusions suffered in an accident involving a car driven by Fred Bartman, 28, 1604 N. Erb street, about 6:25 this morning at a city street intersection.

Lloyd was walking north on Appleton street and crossing Franklin street on the east crosswalk, and Bartman was driving south on Appleton street and starting to make a left turn to go east on Franklin street when the accident occurred, according to a report given police.

The injured pedestrian was taken to the hospital in the Kunitz ambulance.

Two Germans Fined for Visit to Fortifications

Cristobal, Canal Zone.—(AP)—Two Germans, Ingeborg Waltraut Gutmann and Gisbert Wilhelm Gooss, were fined $250 each today for willfully entering and trespassing on United States fortifications at Galeota Island and Ft. Randolph, Canal Zone.

They pleaded guilty in the Canal Zone district court after Judge Bank Gardner dismissed charges of espionage against Gutmann and Gooss upon recommendation of the district attorney.

RESIGNS

Harry Jack, Appleton, president of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk Pool since December 1936, has resigned, effective April 1. J. M. Robbins, Gilman, Taylor county, will succeed him as president, and John Seiber, Waupaca county, will succeed Robbins as vice president. Jack's resignation was made upon the advice of his physician. He will continue to serve as a member of the state board of directors and in other capacities.

It Is Said--

Carroll Hartwig, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hartwig, 228 E. Lawrence street, made his second appearance on the Memorial chapel stage last night when he played the part of the son of Mr. Webb editor of the Grovers Corners Sentinel, in "Our Town." The play will be repeated tonight.

Carroll eight years ago took the part of the 4-year-old boy in "The Silver King" on the chapel stage. F. Theodore Cloak, director of "Our Town," says Carroll has been prompt at rehearsals, interested enough to sit through all of them and apt at following directions.

Spring is due to arrive tomorrow but the group of men who gathered at the corner of Appleton street and College avenue to sun themselves in front of the First National bank arrived today. The corner apparently is the warmest place on College avenue to gather and talk about politics and the weather.

That Dr. George T. Hegner, who attended the citizenship institute dinner at the senior high school last night ate his dinner in reverse. A larger crowd than expected attended the dinner and as a result there was a delay in the serving of the main course to several of the diners. Dr. Hegner, anxious to start eating first drank his coffee. He then went at his pie. The main course then was served him, and after doing away with that he finished off with the salad.

U. S. Judge Demands Rivers Stand Trial In District Court

Valdosta, Ga.—(AP)—Federal district Judge Bascom Deaver stood today on his decision to have Governor E. D. Rivers appear before him Friday to be "dealt with for contempt" after holding that the Georgia executive defied state and federal courts by military force.

The stocky governor sought yesterday to take his case directly to the circuit court of appeals at New Orleans by petitioning Judge Deaver here for a supersedeas order.

This Judge Deaver denied last night.

The jurist held that W. L. Miller, ousted highway chairman, was entitled to the office from which the governor had him removed bodily last December and that use of troops at the state highway building to prevent Miller's re-instatement "nullified" court decisions.

State Hybrid Corn Is Producing Good Silage

Wisconsin hybrid corn is producing good silage, good in quality and abundant in quantity, according to department of agriculture bulletin received by J. E. Magnus, Outagamie county agent.

Wisconsin strains of hybrid corn have just as marked advantages for silage as they have for grain production according to 2-year trials by J. B. Washko and N. P. Neal of the University of Wisconsin.

The advantages of Wisconsin hybrids, listed by growers generally, are that they yield more silage than open-pollinated varieties, and that the stalks and leaves remain green longer. The latter is regarded as a desirable trait because it helps assure that the corn when harvested will contain enough moisture to make it settle well and keep well in the silo.

As for the feeding value of silage made from Wisconsin hybrids, farmers and their experimenters regard it as fully equal to that of silage made from open-pollinated corn. Chemical analyses have shown no significant differences, and what ever differences as there are being in favor of hybrid corn. The rating of grain total silage also is similar for 20 hybrid strains and Murdock, a late open-pollinated variety were of about equal merit in 1932 trials.

23 Parading Khaksars Are Killed in Bombay

Bombay.—(AP)—Twenty-three parading Khaksars and two police men were killed and 39 persons injured in a clash at Lahore today. Among the injured were the senior and deputy superintendents of the Lahore police.

The clash occurred when police tried to stop a group of Khaksars who were marching in defiance of a government law. The police opened fire on the marchers after they said the latter attacked them with spears.

The Khaksars who wear allegiance to the Cambridge-educated leader Inayatullah Khan, are a military and religious organization armed with spears and sworn to promote the Moslem religion.

Thief Has Convenient Sense of Distinction

Houston, Texas.—(AP)—Isaac Roberts, 27-year-old negro, was charged with stealing ties and tubes.

He pleaded guilty to taking the ties.

"Didn't you take the tubes?" the judge asked.

"No, your honor," Isaac answered. "Them tubes was just in the tires—I didn't steal them."

The judge gave him a $45 fine and 10 days in jail.

Lawrence Scores Criticism Being Made Against FBI

Writer Says Smokescreen Has Been Drawn Over Face of Controversy

B Y DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Every now and then a smokescreen is drawn across the face of a controversy hereabouts which makes it seem one thing on the surface when quite another set of influences is at work under cover of an attack.

Such a situation envelops the recurring bombarding of the FBI by the public. The FBI is being visited on the Federal Bureau of Investigation, commonly known as the "FBI" and headed by J. Edgar Hoover. Lately, for instance, there has been a hue and cry about wire-tapping and Attorney General Jackson has just issued an order that there must not be any eavesdropping on the telephone lines.

But actually the amount of wire-tapping practiced by G-men was relatively insignificant and was confined to kidnapping and certain types of criminal action wholly disconnected from any political or social questions. Yet the wire-tapping controversy has been used in an attempt to produce a senate investigation of the FBI.

Digging into the facts of such a tangled piece of intrigue, one finds several forces in America anxious to break down the highly efficient staff of the FBI. One is the underworld which would be happy, indeed, to see J. Edgar Hoover out of the picture. Another is the group of agents of foreign governments who are engaged in espionage right now because of the large amount of war contracts piled here by the allies. Russian and Nazi agents are very active nowadays and they often use innocent Americans as their dupes in schemes to accomplish their objectives.

Attack On Hoover
The attack on J. Edgar Hoover, who has for many years been a career man in the government service without any political affiliations comes at a time when communistic activity is being investigated a little more effectively than ever before. Thus the arrest of certain persons in Detroit for securing enlistments for the Spanish Loyalists has been made the occasion of a general barrage from left-wing quarters in America. The facts show that what ever was done in Detroit was at the instance of Frank Murphy, when he was attorney general, and that alleged raiding at an early hour in the morning and other incidents complained of were done by the local United States attorney and United States marshal, who have accepted full responsibility.

But the effort to besmirch the FBI has not been confined to alien forces. Some of it has arisen in the senate itself where, though confessing that he had no facts, a denunciation of the FBI was made by Senator Norris of Nebraska. The senator is himself such an honest person that it is surprising he permitted himself to be made the vehicle of any such attack as that being engineered against the FBI.

For several years there has been a feud between the various detective agencies of the government. Sometimes it has been good-natured rivalry and sometimes it is inter-departmental jealousy and sometimes there has been bad feeling due to the prominence of one bureau against another. But the real cause of this sort of skirmishing between the detective agencies which most everybody, who is familiar with Washington affairs, has noted off and on during both Republican and Democratic administrations, there has been much discussion about the FBI from the standpoint of its use for political purposes.

Limited Activities
Back in the administration of President Theodore Roosevelt, the secret service was allegedly used by the president to watch members of congress and the law specifically was amended to limit the activities of the agents of the treasury department. Since that time no president has ever sought to use government detectives for anything except proper purposes.

Many persons outside of Washington claim their wives have been tapped and that the administration tries to apply OGPU or Gestapo methods. But there is not the slightest foundation for such reports. The most persuasive reason for saying so is that J. Edgar Hoover is the type of public official whose character and integrity would prevent misuse of the FBI. He has had the respect of every attorney general under whom he has worked and he is known to have the confidence of President Roosevelt.

But this seemingly does not prevent some of the "left-wingers" hereabouts from seeking to undermine the FBI and its able chief and it is quite possible that Mr. Roosevelt does not know what is often being said and done in his behalf by the little group of "liberals" who seek to carry out their own purposes in government.

If the "left-wing" should get control of the FBI and use it for its own purposes, there would be justification for a decided change in the confidence which the public now has in the FBI if political or political chicanery is permitted to enter the one bureau which heretofore has been kept absolutely free from such entanglements. The public would lose J. Edgar Hoover, for he is not the type of official to remain a moment in the service if either a Gestapo or an OGPU is simulated by those who seek nowadays to control governmental bureaus for allegedly sociological reasons.

The carefully directed attack on the FBI warrants watching, and if there is to be an investigation by congress, it would be interesting to have the inquiry broad enough to include the recent activities of all the enemies the FBI has made by its

Most Candidates At Clintonville Face Opposition

Contests Indicated for All Major Offices In City

Clintonville—Nomination papers were circulated during the last few days for several additional candidates to the various city offices. Indications point to a lively election on April 2 as nearly every office has two or more candidates competing for it.

Mayor A. A. Washburn, seeking reelection, will be opposed by F. A. Spearbraker; and S. J. Tilleson, city clerk for the last six years, will have Frank Sinkewicz as his opponent. Lester Sawyer is running for the post of city treasurer, which has been held for the last 25 years by Dr. Robert Fischer, who seeks reelection.

Four candidates are in the race for assessor. Running against Matt Zehren, the incumbent, are Henry Hedtke, H. A. Brooks and Henry Sengstock, Sr.

There will be plenty of opposition for all five aldermanic posts. In the first ward William Habeck, chosen to complete the unexpired term of Louis Krause, will have as his opponents Charles Barker, George Spiegel and Alfred Gehrke. Fred Gansen, seeking reelection as Second ward alderman, will be opposed by Otto Hundermark, a former alderman, and Arthur Kaphingst. Those seeking the council seat being vacated by Fred Tanner of the Third ward are Joseph Bobb, J. B. Johnson and William Timm. In the Fourth ward, the incumbent George Berndt will have Nick Schmidt running against him. Persons had also been circulated by Fred Guyer, who later withdrew from the race. Three candidates will be running in the Fifth ward where Albert Winter is not seeking reelection. Desiring his seat on the council are W. L. Gould, Emil Frei and Joseph Stein.

For the position of supervisor there will be opposition in only two wards. Arthur Steenbock of the Second ward will be opposed by Walter Meggers; and Ferdinand Goerlinger, incumbent, will be opposed by Edward J. R. Meyer in the Third ward. E. J. Perkins of the Fourth, Charles Einder of the Fourth, and Henry Weller of the Fifth are all unopposed for reelection to the county board.

Another office for which there is no opposition is that of justice of peace, which has been held for many years by E. E. Larson, who is running for reelection.

Frank Hamilton, constable, has as his opponents Merrill Boulac and William Binder.

Nomination papers had to be filed with S. J. Tilleson, city clerk, by Monday evening.

The P. T. A. meeting scheduled for Wednesday evening has been postponed because of Holy week.

Central Circle of the Congregational Dorcas society will give a St. Patrick's party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. B. Dodge on Anne street.

Elton Perkins of this city is confined to St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton, where he underwent an operation on an eye.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Rulisch and daughter, Marion, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rosnow and family at Cecil.

The circulation department of the Appleton Post-Crescent is represented in Clintonville by James Behn, 48 Main street. Orders for subscriptions may be left with him. Subscribers missed by carriers should call Mr. Behn, telephone 5811, before 7 a. m.

William Dittmar Buys Roosevelt Street Home

William Dittmar has purchased a home at 121 E. Roosevelt street from Walter H. Engel. The new owner will occupy the home. The real estate transfer has been filed at the office of Stephen M. Peeters, Outagamie county register of deeds. The following transfer also has been filed:

Elmer Vander Velde to George Van Zeeland, a lot in the village of Kimberly.

Johnson Sees Campaign Dirt In Attempt to Smear F.B.I.

Editor's Note: During Westbrook Pegler's vacation, the daily column by Hugh S. Johnson will be substituted in the Post-Crescent.

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON
Washington, D. C.—Probably the 1940 campaign will be one of the dirtiest on record. One indication of this is the obvious effort to smear chief G-man Hoover. I don't know who started it. A signed column by W. L. Hutchinson of the I.N.S. directly quotes an unnamed "high New Dealer" as saying "a small group of New Deal brain-trusters have turned the character assassins on J. Edgar Hoover for the express purpose of driving him into private life. They are led by Tommy Corcoran."

I can't vouch for that, but for some time, it has been Communist strategy to get Hoover. The opening gun was a critical letter and speech by the great liberal senator, George Norris. For the past several weeks the Communist press has been complaining that F.B.I. is an "OGPU"—which is somewhat quaint, considering that the original OGPU is a Communist invention and practice.

Senator Norris' charges are similar and arise from the same incident that excites the Communist's Daily Worker and the "Review" published by the Young Communist league—the arrest in Detroit of several individuals and in Milwaukee of one Senator Norris' letter at least intimates that they had not been charged with crime—"They were not charged with an offense that had any odium attached to it... the activities of the F.B.I. should be confined to the apprehension and arrest of persons charged with crime." The intimation in all this literature is that these people were arrested for their political beliefs. Several were active leading Communists.

All these intimations are false and obviously intentionally so. The arrests were made after indictment by a federal grand jury. Maybe there is "no odium attached to it" but the maximum statutory punishment on conviction would have been five years. In other words, the offenses charged were not only "crimes" but felonies.

This group was accused not of being Communists but of recruiting, examining and forwarding men to fight with the Communist forces in Spain. It is forbidden by federal law to recruit here for any fighting force that is not an ally or associate of the United States in war.

Attorneys General, Not F.B.I., At Fault Here

The history of the case is not pretty, but it is the action of the U. S. attorneys general and not of the F.B.I. that needs explanation. F.B.I. was ordered by Attorney General Cummings to investigate this activity—and then ordered by him to drop it. As soon as Frank Murphy became attorney general, he ordered F.B.I. to go ahead. These arrests were a result. As soon as Mr. Jackson became the boss he ordered the case dropped. There is a faint odor of politics, religion and red influence throughout, but it nowhere touches the F.B.I., which is under the absolute control of the attorney general.

General Motors Labor Election Will Be Held April 17, Board States

Detroit—(AP)—The national labor relations board Monday set April 17 for elections at which an estimated 125,000 employees of 59 General Motors Corporation plants throughout the country will vote on bargaining representation.

The election will be the largest in NLRB history.

In most plants the contest for designation as bargaining agent is between the C.I.O. and A.F. of L. unions known as the United Automobile Workers of America. Workers also may indicate a desire for neither union.

The election will be by individual plants. In some instances where A.F. of L. craft unions or independent groups have a place on the ballot, a bargaining may be chosen for a single department may be chosen.

Announcing the date, the NLRB regional office here said General Motors had agreed to set up booths in the plants. Employees casting their votes during working hours. The vote will be counted on the following day.

City Home Expenses Total $504 in Month

City home costs during February totaled $504.35, according to the monthly report of F. A. W. Hammond, relief director. Expenses which the city home saved by using its own products totaled $42.44.

Costs were divided as follows: administration, $199.90; provisions, $83.51; fuel, $59.31; clothing, $4.32; medical, $111.01; household supplies, $5.87; miscellaneous, $27.89; and repairs and maintenance, $12.34.

Four persons were admitted and three were discharged from the city home making a total of 22 persons residing there at the end of the month.

Wife Shouldn't Make Issue Of Picking Up After Husband

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—From childhood I was trained to have a place for everything to keep everything in its place. Now at the age of 40 I have married a man of 45 whose practice seems to have been to leave everything that he used just where he had it last. At first I started in to correct this fault of his, but I have begun to see that this gives him a mingled hurt and resentful attitude and greatly affects the comradely good will that existed between us. He has many characteristics which are more admirable, but no matter how fond of him I am, it is still no fun coming into a room to turn on the light and stumble over a chair, or his shoes, or hitting my shins on open drawers. I do not want to hurt my husband's feelings. Neither do I desire to be a nagging wife. Yet his disorder is getting on my nerves. What would you do? ALICE.

Answer: It's lots easier to pick up after a good husband than it is to pick him up in the first place, especially when you are 40 years old. So I would just shut the closet doors that he leaves open, screw the top back on the tooth paste tube, gather up the newspapers he has spread all over the floor and say nothing about it.

When you think of the women who have husbands who are drunkards, or philanderers, or tightwads, or grouches, for one to be a scatterer seems a minor fault, doesn't it, when you come to look at it in its true proportion?

I don't say it isn't aggravating, because it is. It is enough to rile a saint's temper to come into the bathroom that you left quick and span, with the towels all neatly folded on the rack, every bottle and jar and dish in its proper place, and find it looking as if a cyclone had passed through it after hubby had had a bath and shave. But it won't take you half as long to straighten it up again as it would to bowl him out about it. Nor will it so exhaust you as getting in a rage over his carelessness. There is nothing that leaves you so flat as anger.

The most important thing in all marriage is the way husbands and wives deal with each other's little ways. It is really the pivot on which the whole marriage turns and it decides whether they will be happy or miserable together; whether they will have a peaceful home or one that is a storm center; mostly whether the husband is a philanderer or domestic as the house cat, and whether the wife will go on joggling contentedly to their golden wedding day or fly off to Reno within five years.

It is not crimes that disrupt marriage, as a general thing. It is the little habits of husbands and wives that get on each other's nerves and that they fight over instead of accepting philosophically, and that pave the way to the divorce courts. It is only when a wife can shut her ears when her husband turns on the loud-speaker of the radio when he gets home and smile when he drops cigarette ashes on the floor or when a husband can wait fifteen minutes for his wife to put on her hat without telling her to hurry up, that a marriage is safe.

And that goes for every human peculiarity, for it isn't enough for us just to love our husbands and wives. We have to learn to love their little ways.

It Pay to Be Good
Dear Miss Dix—Is it outmoded for a girl to be decent? I am a good-looking young girl, well placed socially and attractive to men. When I meet a young man he nearly always asks for a date, but when he finds out that I refuse to pet and neck and permit the familiarities that boys demand nowadays, that is the last time I see him. They tell me that I am old-fashioned and that I never will be popular. They say that boys expect girls to allow them to take liberties with them and that they think nothing of it, nor have less respect for the girl. Tell me, what is a girl supposed to be like in these days? What do men expect of her? Most important of all, how can a girl travel the strait and narrow path when every man she meets is trying to pull her off of it? Does it pay for a girl to be good in this modern age? SALLY.

Answer: Yes, Sally, it pays for a girl always to be good. It pays in health and happiness. It pays for a girl to be pure, just as it pays for a man to be honest, notwithstanding the fact that the loose-living girls have the most beaux and the thieves seem to make the most money. But that is for the short

Best Laid Plans May Go Haywire

BY ELY CULBERTSON

It was not inconceivable that when Robert Burns wrote about "the best laid plans of mice and men" he had just finished an unsatisfactory session of whist. This game and its descendants, all the way down to the most capricious but also most fascinating grandchild, contract, have made millions of players ruminate on the sad truth of his lament. At times, however, there is some question as to whether the plan they had used really was the "best laid."

West opened the king of diamonds and cashed two more rounds, after which he shifted to the deuce of spades. The declarer, for a fleeting moment, thought of putting up dummy's jack, but decided that he always would be able to finesse against the queen, on the second round, if it were held by West, and therefore allowed the lead to ride to his own K-10 tenace.

The ten won and, as per "plan," declarer returned the seven of spades, intending to finesse dummy's jack in order to create two entries for the leads of hearts through East's hoped for king.

But West had been doing some thinking on his own hook. He saw that if his partner had a trump honor that was impregnable from one lead thru, but not two, it was up to him to reduce dummy's entries from two to one. Therefore, West nonchalantly put up his spade queen on the second lead of the suit!

From that point declarer was helpless. He was in dummy with the ace and finessed the trump king, but with this spade king left in his own hand never could reenter the dummy for the vital second finesse. Thus he was forced to concede East's trump king for a defeat of one trick.

It should have been obvious that, against good defense, dummy's jack of spades had to be played on the very first lead of the suit. If East had the queen, and smothered the jack with it, that was just too bad. Because if East had the queen and used it properly, declarer would be helpless. No matter what card he played from dummy, if dummy ducked, East would have to be a very bad defense player to put up the queen, since he must perceive that it should be conserved to shut out dummy's only possible second entry.

Thus, since the only method of entering dummy twice depended on the spade queen lying in West's hand, it should have been a simple matter to play the jack at the first opportunity.

Good of Past Generations Must be Passed on to Youth

BY ANGELO PATRI

Youth dislikes what is old. For newness is a quality greatly to be desired. A new coat is better than the old one, just for newness sake. The new style, and only style possible, simply because it is the "latest." This is characteristic of their stage of growth and it needs the balanced wisdom of the elders to prevent it from doing harm.

The ideas and the things that are good in themselves always stand the test of time. The evil together with the lesser good disappear and are heard of no more. The generations carry over something of service and value through the years and the accumulated store becomes the wisdom of the race. The Ten Commandments are old fashioned, but they are as wise in their meanings today as when Moses first decreed them.

Love something so completely as to exclude all other ideas and you suffer for it. To be healthy the mind must have something of universal quality in it.

Swearing, calling out the name of the Most High on trivial occasions is to show vast ignorance. A glimmer of divine understanding would prevent making such a mistake.

A day of rest is imperative for man and beast. No sane mind questions that. Appreciation of one's father and mother is surely the expression of any intelligent, understanding child. The imperative orders against lying, stealing, killing, adultery, covetousness, are social laws tested by the ages. No better can be found. Added to these the Golden Rule makes as complete a code for good living as human understanding can know. Live according to these rules and you are going to live richly, happily, at peace with God and your neighbors. Break any particular one of them and you are unhappy, at war with yourself and the universe.

Need Food for Souls
Children, being children, cannot know this in terms of experience, the only terms that give the words value. The teachers, meaning parents, school teachers and religious instructors, should feel this instruction to be an imperative duty. It is not enough to teach children to feed and clothe and shelter themselves. They are not material beings but spiritual creatures made in the likeness of God. They need food for their souls and we must provide it. If we are not to rear a nation of crass-minded egotists whose God is Self, whose power is Force, we must teach hour by hour, the dignity of man, his relation to creation, his high calling as a being of intelligence. We must insist that the good of past ages be carried forward and expressed in their daily lives. We must be prepared for their resistance to the old ways and prove to them the beauty that is eternal in goodness.

Let us try to restore the "good man" and the "good woman," and particularly the "good child" to his old fashioned honorable place. Let us present the Commandments as the American code, the gentleman's code, the "thing to do." Let it be stylish to be old fashioned—and good.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST
By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

Martha has pent up her energy so that it cannot dissipate itself in the normal channels, so it speaks in bizarre outlets. Fingernail biting, picking hangnails on one's fingers, grimaicing and twitching—these are often the abnormal outlets for childhood energy debarrered normal expression in running and romping.

Cure For Insomnia
Even adults afflicted with insomnia will find that active outdoor exercise in wind and sun have a pleasant sedative effect and are much more reliable than sleeping powders as a means of guaranteeing sound slumber.

It is unfortunate in this modern urban world that so many children are cooped up in city apartments, or lack brothers and sisters whose antics and ideas help incite them to action.

An only child will be much more quiet and bookish than a child with plenty of playmates. You have doubtless observed, too, that on a long train or auto ride, children like comic books to read. Books and reading are sedentary amusements. They are valuable in moderation, but childhood is the time for plenty of leg action.

Martha also needs more social contacts and group activities. She is becoming a wallflower, even at the age of 12. It is better for children to be socially well-adjusted than to be pushed too fast in school subjects.

Sometimes chronic and unpredictable twitching is a sign of rheumatic infection of the nervous system, called chorea. It warrants medical attention.

Again, these habits, if predictable and recurring, are called tics. For a distinction between tics versus chorea send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with a dime for printing costs.

THE HOME GARDENER
by EDWIN H. PERKINS

An occasional warm day brings on the urge to go outdoors with a seed package and get the garden underway. This is an unwise procedure except in the deep South where sowing of seeds from the hardier type plants can become an outdoor activity. Northerners had better resort to seed sowing in controlled hotbeds or some other plan which insures the seedlings against injury from late cold spells.

A small box or large flower pot in a sunny window will give seedlings several weeks' start over outdoor sown seed and satisfy that urge to see plants grow. A well-built unpainted box, about the size of a cigar box, with holes drilled in the bottom to assist drainage, or the flower pot known as the six-inch bulb pan are favorites for this purpose.

The holes in the containers should be crocked to insure against dirt plugging them up, after which coarsely sieved poor soil should be filled in to within an inch of the top. The upper half inch should be finer but still rich soil, since seedlings, like human infants, do not require and cannot digest heavy food. Seeds may be broadcast or sown in rows on this layer. Fine seeds need only be rubbed into the surface. Larger seeds should be covered with about one-quarter inch of soil.

Water well by lowering the container in a vessel of water until thoroughly soaked, cover with newspapers to retain moisture and keep out light, stand in a sunny window and do not uncover until the seedlings appear, when the cover can be removed. Water during the seed germination period only when the

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

The parade of Easter bonnets is always an inspiration to hair-stylists for hats and hair-dos should complement each other, and this season brings a close collaboration between milliners and hair dressers.

As a balance to large brimmed hats and the very saucy miniature styles, matrons can wear flattering false knots set low at the back of the head with hair drawn softly back from the face, ear tips showing. School girls, who are reluctant to give up their cherished and comfortable bobs, should wear their hair shorter than before.

The very fetching poke bonnets and Flemish sailors, make wearing empadour bangs almost necessary. These bangs should not be cut in profusion like the old Dutch boy type, but they should be feathery and waved down softly from the hair line. They should be so cut that they may be combed back from the face and appear to be part of a sleek coiffure for more casual occasions.

No matter what the style or color of your new hat, it is most important to have your hair drawn in simple lines at the sides of the head with the coiffure detail centered either at the front, high, or low at the back of the head.

New Swisswirl! A recent fashion show introduced a new coiffure dubbed the Swisswirl, for it was designed to complement the daintiest of feminine clothes made out of delicate Swiss fabric. Thus making it an ideal coiffure for the coming summer.

The hair was cut rather short and permanently curled, but softly so.

ALL-PURPOSE

BY ANNE ADAMS

Here's a smart special for a busy woman. For you can be out all day long in this jacket-ensemble; then wear it graciously, serenely, to a social evening without changing. Anne Adams has designed Pattern 4413 with graceful flattery. Curved yokes come in one piece from the back to give a trim shoulder line and to hold soft fullness in through the bustline. They are aided by gathers above the nicely pointed waist- seams. You'll like the tall, slender effect of the front skirt panels that give well-placed flare. The long-sleeved jacket has the straight, becoming lines you need, and may match or contrast the attractive dress.

Pattern 4413 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36, entire ensemble, takes 5 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric. Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number. Send your order to Appleton Post-Crescent, Pattern Department, 243 West 17th St., New York, N. Y.

exclaimed, "It was exactly fourteen minutes past time."

The Sergeant swung around in his chair and asked Richard if he'd seen the girl, but he remembered only that someone had come out of the front apartment.

"Well," said the Sergeant, "that checks with the time you said you left for the station."

And Richard MacDonald shrugged his thin shoulders.

The Sergeant turned again to Adrienne and asked her if she'd seen anyone else during the evening or night. For a person trying to conceal something she did a very poor job. Behind those stormy dark eyes lay fear. Finally she said "No" in a queer, tight voice.

Union Good Friday Services Will be Held in 3 Churches

Neenah, Menasha Congregations Will Participate in Holy Week Events

Neenah — Holy week derives its name from the sacred events commemorated in the life of the Lord and Christian churches of Neenah and Menasha have planned special services for this week to be culminated in the Easter Sunday services.

Three Union Good Friday services from 12 noon to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon are planned, two in Neenah and one in Menasha. Guest pastors will participate in other services throughout the week.

The Rev. Waldemar Hoyer will preach the Maundy Thursday evening sermon in Trinity Lutheran church as the newly confirmed class receives its first communion at the 7:30 service. The Rev. E. C. Reim is the pastor.

The Rev. D. H. Shelhart, field missionary, will assist with the Holy Thursday evening service in St. Paul's English Lutheran church. The young people will receive communion. Communion will be celebrated at the 7:30 Wednesday evening service also. The Rev. S. H. Roth, pastor, will preach on "The Perfect Lamb of God."

St. Paul's church pastor and the congregation will join with the pastor, the Rev. Arnold Andersen, and the congregation of Our Saviour's English Lutheran church for a Union Good Friday service in St. Paul's church from 12 to 3 o'clock. Holy communion will be celebrated at this service also.

Methodist Services

The Rev. William A. Riggs will begin holy week services at 7:30 this evening in First Methodist. The Rev. Mr. Riggs will have as his topic tonight "Christian Degeneration or Christ Betrayed." At the 7:30 Wednesday evening service, "The Trial of Jesus" will be sermon topic.

Reception of new members and the sacrament of holy communion will mark the 7:30 Maundy Thursday evening service.

The senior choir of Immanuel Lutheran church will present an Easter cantata at the 7:30 Wednesday evening service. The German luten service with celebration of the holy communion will be at 7:30 Thursday evening. Holy communion again will be celebrated at the 7:30 Good Friday evening service.

The ordinance of baptism, the hand church for fellowship and holy communion will be observed in Whiting Memorial Baptist church at 7:30 Friday evening. The Rev. W. L. Harms is pastor.

Maundy Thursday will be observed with celebration of holy communion at 7:30 services in Our Saviour's English Lutheran church.

Confessions Wednesday

Confessions will be heard from 3 to 5:30 and again at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening in St. Margaret Mary Catholic church. Holy communion will be celebrated at 6:30 Thursday morning with high mass celebrated at 7:30 followed by procession with the Blessed Sacrament. Adoration of the Sacrament will be held throughout the day. From 7:30 to 8:30 Thursday evening the holy hour will be held with the Nicolet Council, Knights of Columbus assisting in the devotions.

Good Friday morning at 7:30, the reading of the passion, chanting of special options, unveiling and adoration of the cross will precede the mass of the pre-sanctified. The Tre Ore services will be from 12 noon to 3 o'clock. The way of the cross will be at 7:30 Friday evening.

The blessing of the new fire, Easter Candle, recitation of the 12 prophecies, blessing of the Easter and baptismal water, and chanting of the Litany of all Saints will be held prior to the high mass at 7 o'clock Holy Saturday morning.

Communion service in First Presbyterian church will be at 7:30 Holy Thursday evening. Union Good Friday services will be observed in First Presbyterian church with the Rev. W. A. Riggs, pastor, the Rev. W. A. Riggs, pastor of First Methodist church; the Rev. E. C. Kollath, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church; the Rev. W. L. Harms, pastor of Whiting Memorial Baptist church and their congregations participating.

Reviewing the Happenings of Christ during this week of Passion" will be the union topic of the Rev. W. G. Wittenborn at the 7:30 Wednesday evening Bible study in First Fundamental church.

Group Plans Survey Of Social Resources

Menasha — The survey committee of the Council of Social Agencies of Neenah and Menasha, meeting Monday in Hotel Menasha, made preliminary plans for conducting the survey of social resources in both communities. Questionnaires will be sent each group and when they are filled out and returned to the committee, a catalog will be made for distribution to all organizations. Miss Edna Robertson is chairman of the survey committee.

Neenah — Dr. J. M. Donovan and R. Bradish shared honors in the K. of C. Bowling League last night at the Neenah alleys when the former shot high game of 222 and the latter ruffed top series of 596 on lines of 190, 192 and 214.

Al Eisenach rolled second high total of 585 on games of 196, 182 and 207. Father Joseph Ahearn spilled a 216 game.

Ninas, which won three games from the Shamrocks, took over the league lead, displacing the San Pedro which lost two games to the Admirals. Two other teams counted straight victories, Santa Marias winning from LaSalle and Navigators, the cellar team, defeating Marquettes.

Navigators also copied team honors, shooting high game of 991 and top series of 2,826.

Saturday Breakfast Club Holds Luncheon Meeting Tuesday Noon

Menasha — The Saturday morning breakfast club of Winnebago Day school, which was organized for visits at valley manufacturing plants, revised its usual procedure by holding a luncheon meeting this noon at the Valley Inn.

The students saw a film on the steel industry at the hotel and then made an inspection trip through the Neenah Foundry. Day school students are having their spring vacation this week and the club decided to have its meeting today instead of Saturday morning.

On previous meetings the students have toured the George Banta Publishing company plant and the Lakeview mill of the Kimberly-Clark corporation. Later in spring trips will be planned to manufacturing plants in other cities of the valley.

RUBBISH WEDNESDAY

Menasha — Rubbish will be collected in the fourth district on Wednesday, according to H. O. Haugh, city health officer. The district includes Sixth street and the area north to the city limits.

Neenah Aldermen Adopt Project to Improve Streets

Reduce Cost of Curbs, Gutters and Cutting High Crowns

Neenah — To get its much legislated program of the elimination of high crowned streets and installation of curbs and gutters underway, the city council at a meeting last night at city hall voted to reduce the cost to property owners from $1 to 60 cents per running foot.

For years, the council has been trying to inaugurate a program for improving Neenah's streets, which Alderman Andrew Andersen, chairman of the public improvements committee, described last night as "nothing more than ordinary country roads."

Alderman Carl Loehning's motion, which was passed by a vote of 7 to 3, followed a lengthy discussion on the program opened by Alderman James J. Andersen. Opposing the motion were Aldermen John Heigl, Knud Larsen and Richard O'Brien.

Property owners will have to pay only 60 cents for the complete job, cutting down of the high crowned streets, regrading and graveling and installation of curbs and gutters, and the latter work, installing curbs and gutters, costs 50 cents a foot alone. The city will bear the cost of the rest of the work.

No Petitions

Alderman Andrew Andersen, when the matter was brought up, reviewed the former proposal. He said that the city would welcome petitions from property owners for elimination of high crowned streets providing curbs and gutters were installed for $1 a foot. But there have been no petitions, he pointed out.

Alderman Larsen stated that the council will have to wait a long time before there will be any petitions because property owners can't afford to pay that much, and he suggested that the city start its own program.

Mayor Edwin A. Kalfas suggested that the assessment be reduced and the city bear part of the cost, and Alderman Andrew Andersen agreed, stating that otherwise there was no use trying to promote the project. City Clerk Zemlock informed the council that the cost of installing curbs and gutters amounts to 60 cents a foot.

The project, it was pointed out, would be incorporated under a blanket WPA job.

Compressor Bids

The council voted to advertise for bids for a compressor but declined to act on the purchase of a truck for the street department.

Alderman Loehning, chairman of the committee on streets, sidewalks and bridges, informed the council that the city is renting a compressor from WPA at a cost of $125 a month, and he asserted that if the city purchased its own compressor it would pay for itself in time.

He also told the council that the city was renting trucks at a $1.50 a hour. He stated that in nine months the cost for truck rental totaled $1,623 with a net cost to the city of $626. It is expensive to rent any kind of equipment, the alderman pointed out, and if the city purchased a truck it too would pay for itself in time.

Alderman Larsen contended that big companies, like the Kimberly-Clark corporation, were renting trucks to keep down overhead. He contended that rental wasn't high and that the city didn't have room for another truck.

An operator's license was granted to Anton Krause, 613 Second street, Menasha, and a petition for installation of sidewalks on both sides of Riverlawn street from S. Lake street to Western avenue was submitted.

Alderman Edward Schultz, chairman of the finance committee, reported that during the month the city incurred 84 accounts totaling $3,540.2. Alderman James Andersen's proposal that walls in the city offices be washed was carried.

Mrs. J. J. Schnetzer Is Honored by Family On Her 75th Birthday

Neenah — Mrs. J. J. Schnetzer, 265 N. Park avenue, was guest of honor at a family dinner party Sunday in observance of her seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Mrs. Schnetzer who has been a resident of Neenah for 40 years, came here from DePere.

Twenty-seven guests attended the anniversary dinner party with cards providing entertainment during the evening. Mrs. Walter Abelson won honors in bridge. Miss Ross J. J. Schnetzer, Ruth Lansing and Mrs. Anna Zimmerman in schafkopf and Mrs. E. F. Grogan, consolation. Mrs. Charles Lansing received the guest prize.

Games followed the card party. Mrs. Schnetzer has eight children, Richard, Sheboygan; Joseph Devens, Mass.; Frederick, Alton, Tony, Sylvester and Harold, Neenah, and two daughters, Mrs. Philip Braun, Neenah, and Mrs. Louis Haanen, Green Bay.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Haanen and daughters, Peggy and Joyce and son William, Green Bay, and Miss Mary Smith, DePere.

Man Denies Charges Of Drunken Driving

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh — George Defferding, 42 route 1, Menasha, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunken driving in Judge S. J. Luchsinger's municipal court here Monday afternoon.

Defferding was arrested by county highway police on County trunk P near St. Mary's cemetery early Sunday morning. The arresting officers reported that they had followed him for several miles and that Defferding was driving on both sides of the road. Judge Luchsinger set the trial for 10 o'clock, April 3.

DAVIS CUP STAR SHOWS SKILL AT PING-PONG

Neenah—Bobby Riggs, No. 1 ranking amateur tennis player and member of the Davis cup team, Sunday afternoon showed his superiority in ping-pong when he defeated six of the best Neenah and Appleton players in as many matches during an exhibition at the new recreation building. ## 6 Persons Hurt in Traffic Accidents During Last Week

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh — Six persons were injured in automobile accidents in Winnebago county last week, Floyd L. Wright, statistician for the Winnebago County Safety council reported yesterday. This brings the total of injured for the first sixteen days of March up to 10, six more than the number of injured for the same period last year.

The number of accidents so far this month is 25, the same number as during the corresponding period last year. There have been no deaths from automobile accidents yet this month, and the number of cars damaged totals 36.

Since the first of the year there have been 130 accidents in which 62 persons have been injured and 2 killed. For the first 21 months last year there were reported 134 accidents in which 34 persons were injured with no fatalities.

William Draheim Describes Use of Chemicals in War

Captain Says Method Is More Humane Than Other Types of Weapons

Neenah — Pointing out that he was more interested in protection against chemical warfare, Captain William Draheim, gas officer in the 127th infantry, declared in a talk at the noon luncheon meeting of the Neenah club Monday at the club rooms that chemical warfare is really more humane, than other types of weapons.

Statistics show that in the last World war, Draheim stated, casualties from chemical warfare, numbered more than 70,000 and 2 per cent resulted in death, while casualties from other weapons were more than 187,000 and 24 per cent resulted in death. These statistics correspond with those of Germany, Great Britain and France.

Captain Draheim, who recently attended the government gas school at Edgewood, Md., continued the course in chemical warfare. The national defense branch of the national defense system, Draheim said, was in charge of research, supplies, planning and training.

Chemical warfare hasn't been readily received by the general public and not enough attention has been paid to it as might be, but it is more efficient and effective than other types, he said.

Displays Mask

Captain Draheim exhibited and demonstrated the use of a modern gas mask. He pointed out that there are various types of protection in chemical warfare, including individual, collective, and civilian.

In the first, a gas mask builds up a confidence in a soldier although it reduces his efficiency.

Draheim also described the use of protective clothing. It resembles other types of clothing but it is impregnated with a secret substance which prevents liquid gas from going through the clothing and burning the skin. He said that while attending the school, he tried out the gas mask by traveling through a lethal chamber and the protective clothing by walking through area in which mustard gas had been laid.

Four Neenah Boys Confess Series of Thefts to Police

Neenah — Neenah police reported today that the recent series of minor thefts of accessories from automobiles and garages in Neenah was cleared this week with the apprehension of four boys about 12 years of age.

Police recovered a large quantity of small accessories, such as flashlights, tools and button-reflectors off license plates, which the boys had looted from garages and parked automobiles. The boys admitted the thefts, and police said that the youngsters, who have been reprimanded, will not be prosecuted.

Several of the minor thefts took place during the last two weeks but the police weren't aware of them because no reports were made to the department.

Neenah Tennis Players to Open Drills This Week

Rocket Netters Will Practice in Roosevelt School Gymnasium

Neenah — Ivan Williams, Neenah High school tennis coach, reported today that his championship squad will open practice this week in preparation for the first match of the season. The Rocket netters will mix shots with Oshkosh April 13 in the opening match.

The Rocket netters, who were undefeated in 11 straight matches last season, will practice in Roosevelt school gymnasium until weather permits them to drill on school courts.

Coach Williams has five lettermen back from last season's championship squad. They are Captain Donald Erdmann, Richard Miller, Harold Dieckhoff, William Hammett and Kenneth Redlin. The other two members of the squad, lost through graduation, were Henry DuPont and Gregory Smith.

Candidates for Team

Other candidates for the squad this year are LaVerne Graham, Phillip Arpin, Jack Draheim, Clifford Bunker, Mike Tembellis, Robert Huebner, Royden Gilmour, Arden Kalkoske, Donald Cornell, Gilbert Nooyen, Robert Johnson, Donald Quinn, James Jersild, Warren Jonscher, Gordon Rhodes, Allan Burstein, Nick Nicholas, Donald Rine, John Martin and William Oehlke.

Coach Williams reported that the spring tennis schedule is being completed. The netmen last spring played teams from Menasha, Oshkosh, Sheboygan Central, Fond du Lac, Appleton, East Green Bay, and Manitowoc, and they competed in the Northwestern Wisconsin conference tournament and the state tournament, both of which were in Neenah. The state tournament will be held in Neenah again this year.

Menasha Has 20 Candidates for 9 Elective Posts

Interest Will Center on Contest for Mayor's Position

Menasha—Except for three candidates for supervisor, all candidates for office at the April 2 election in Menasha will have competition. There are 20 candidates for nine positions. Two candidates took papers out Monday afternoon just ahead of the deadline to assure competition for William Kamp, 385 Cleveland street, third ward alderman.

The candidates are Silas Spangler, 342 Park street, and Alfred Baenke, 226 Anna street. Spangler has served as alderman, city attorney, and supervisor from the third ward. Karrow is completing his first term as alderman while Baenke is a newcomer in the city politics.

Three men who have no opposition are V. M. Landgraf, 400 First street, who was appointed first ward supervisor last year when E. F. Dornbrook resigned; E. G. Sonnenberg, 404 Nicolet boulevard, third ward supervisor, and A. J. Seithamer, 550 Manitowoc street, fifth ward supervisor.

Interest will center in the race for mayor in which W. H. Jensen is seeking his second term. He will be opposed by E. C. Heckrodt, former mayor and alderman from the third ward for 10 years. Jensen was a member of the board of education six years before he was elected mayor. Two years ago Jensen defeated Heckrodt and Walter Held, both former mayors, in a 3-way race.

Justice, 2 Assessors
Voters from the city at large also will select a justice of the peace and two assessors. Justice will be Justice John J. Ales, 309 First street, who is completing his third term, and Attorney A. J. Cane, Main street.

Three candidates are seeking the two assessor posts. They are R. M. Heckrodt, 815 Plank road, incumbent; H. C. Steidl, 514 Green Bay street, and Harold Hanson, 413 Broad street. Joseph H. Stommel, 229 Broad street, is the other candidate but illness has prevented his candidacy. The council has passed an amendment to the charter ordinance changing the assessor position to one full-time man appointed by the council. The amendment has not taken effect yet and probably will be discussed at the council session tonight.

Voters in each of the wards will have a choice for alderman. In the First ward Milan R. Skrzyrak, 424 Sixth street, and R. J. Keefe, 167 Main street, are seeking the post held by Reuben Tuschcherer, 345 First street. Tuschcherer, who is completing his first term, is not a candidate for reelection.

Three candidates will seek the second ward alderman's post. Nominations papers were issued last week for M. P. Crowley, 1 Main street, incumbent, who will be opposed by Edward E. Howley, 233 Fourth street, and Patrick C. Keopack, 235 Third street. Crowley, a former city attorney, was appointed an alderman by the council last year when Earl Sauler resigned.

In the Fourth ward John R. Scanlon, 508 Sixth street, incumbent, and Edward Stunk, 688 Appleton street, are the only candidates. There is a 3-way race in the Fifth ward in which Walter O'Brien, 713 Paris street, is seeking reelection. He will be opposed by George J. Stip, 705 First street, former alderman, and J. Cyril Hyland, 532 Fifth street.

Council to Consider Fire Truck Purchase

Menasha—Purchase of a new fire truck probably will be one of the main items of discussion when the Menasha council holds a regular session at 7:30 tonight in the city hall. The council received bids on the truck in February but failed to reach an agreement on the purchase at the March 5 meeting.

A motion to purchase from the lowest bidder was tabled at 5:45 and after an hour of discussion a motion to adjourn was tabled by the same vote. Mayor W. H. Jensen broke the tie and adjourned the last meeting.

Other business since March 5 is expected to make the session tonight a busy one. The board of public works has discussed widening of the 500 block of Second street as well as the Plowright plant at recent meetings.

Election board appointments as well as the charter ordinance amendment making the position of assessor a full-time, appointive job probably will be discussed tonight.

Neenah—Neenah high school wrestling team will tangle with Sturgeon Bay in a return match at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the high school gymnasium. The match between the two teams was scheduled today.

Coach George Christoph's squad opened its mat season against the Sturgeon Bay grapplers March 2. Sturgeon Bay won the opening bout, 204 to 123. In the exhibition bouts, Neenah won seven and lost two.

Randy Naase, Menasha, will be the referee.

18 Candidates to Compete for Posts in Neenah Ballot

Only One Fails to Return Nomination Papers Before Deadline

Neenah—Eighteen of the 19 candidates who took out nomination papers for city offices in the spring election Tuesday, April 2, filed their papers before the deadline last night. City Clerk H. S. Zemlock reported.

Armin W. Blank, who took out papers for the aldermanic post in the Fifth ward, was the only applicant who didn't file nomination papers. His withdrawal from the election leaves only two candidates in the race for the Fifth ward job: James J. Anderson, incumbent, and Paul Fahrtenkrug.

The other candidates whose names will be on the ballot are: Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs, incumbent, unopposed; treasurer, Walter H. Loehning, incumbent, unopposed; assessor, John Blenker, incumbent, unopposed.

Aldermanic Candidates
Alderman, First ward, Edward W. Schultz, incumbent, and Daniel E. Driscoll; Second ward, Andrew L. Andersen, incumbent, and Fred Johnson; Third ward, Walter J. Busch, incumbent, and John Stuber; Fourth ward, John T. Hagel, incumbent, S. K. Seebert, and Walter H. Hauke, and Fifth ward, James J. Anderson, incumbent, and Paul Fahrtenkrug.

School commissioners Charles H. Velte, incumbent, Rudolph Lotz, Roy J. Sund and Reginald E. Sande. Registration of voters will close Saturday, March 23, according to Clerk Zemlock. To accommodate voters, the city clerk's office will be open from 7 o'clock to 8:30 this evening. Voters who have registered and persons who will be 21 years of age on or before April 2 must register in order to cast their ballots in the spring election.

Freshet Driving of Lumber Is Exempted From Wage-Hour Law

Washington—The wage-hour administration ruled yesterday that spring freshet driving of lumber everywhere was a seasonal industry and thus entitled to a partial exemption from the wage-hour law.

The agency had previously determined that it was seasonal and entitled to an exemption in Maine, New Hampshire, New York, Vermont, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

On the petition of H. C. Oliver, Helena, Ark., it was decided to make the exemption applicable to all spring freshet driving.

LADIES CAN BE TOUGH
Geneva, Switzerland—(AP)—A pantheress from Berlin got a two week vacation in Switzerland—all because she seemed too tough to be a lady.

Geneva's zoo ordered a male sent from Berlin to go with the female panther they already had. The animal that arrived was such a hard-boiled specimen that it was two weeks before Geneva zoo guardians decided she wasn't a male after all.

"We thought this one was just giving our lady some violent love pats," said the embarrassed Geneva guards as they caged the Berlin lioness for the return trip to Berlin, "but she was just being tough after all."

The Berlin zoo has promised to send a real male as soon as possible.

Sansone Denies Being in State

Chicagoan Is Wanted by Racine County as Holdup Suspect

Chicago—(AP)—Ernest Sansone, 38, wanted in Racine, Wis., on charges of assault with intent to rob, testified yesterday at a habeas corpus hearing that he had not been in Wisconsin since 1933.

He is fighting extradition to Racine where he is charged with being one of five men who stole four slot machines containing $250 from the Meadowbrook Country club last September.

Sansone was arrested here early in February. The first hearing on his habeas corpus petition was held March 1 but was halted when Chief Justice John Prystalski said he had information that $1,000 had been placed in escrow to prevent Sansone's identification. When the hearing resumed, Morris G. Meyers, assistant state's attorney, said he had been unable to find sufficient information to justify a public airing of the "fix" charges.

Two witnesses, Alfred P. Sorenson, a jeweler, and Joseph Dvorany, a shipping clerk, identified Sansone as one of the men in the slot machine robbery. Alex Barry, assistant bartender at the Meadowbrook club, said he could not make a positive identification, but that there was a certain resemblance.

Two newspapers, Jack Lynes of the Milwaukee Sentinel, and Boris Boboff of the Milwaukee Journal testified they saw Sansone in the Club Durand near Racine about a week after the robbery.

Some 'Cures' Science Never Has Heard of

Memphis—(AP)—Deep south farm negroes, afflicted with "misery," like their medicine on the unique side.

Here are some of their "home remedies":
A ball of camphor gum tied about the neck and resting on the chest will cure neuralgia.

To ease a sick headache, drink a cup of catnip tea. And to check nausea or constant vomiting, crush peach tree leaves, cover them with water and drink the concoction slowly.

There's nothing like a piece of well-chewed horse-radish for hoarseness, and a small bag of tea placed on the eye will rout a cold.

To stop the flow of blood, saturate the wound with turpentine and castor oil. When cows "come fresh" in May, their butter is good for cracked hands.

Although there is not yet a sure-fire cure for rheumatism—which includes virtually every ailment from a crick in the neck to a strained knee—the negroes have found a "preventive." Just carry

Madison Attorney To Fight Charges

State Bar Files Complaint Against Darrell D. MacIntyre

Madison—(AP)—Darrell D. MacIntyre, Madison attorney, accused of unethical professional conduct by the board of state bar commissioners, said today he would fight the charges.

The board's complaint was issued Feb. 28, but it was not served upon MacIntyre until yesterday when he returned from a southern vacation trip. He has 20 days to file an answer with the supreme court.

MacIntyre and his associate, J. Philip Koberstein, were charged in the board's complaint with subornation of perjury in a divorce case in which their client misrepresented the time she lived in the state.

In addition, MacIntyre was charged with mishandling clients' funds.

25 Aspirants in Field for Offices In April Voting

3-Cornered Contest Develops for First Ward Council Job

New London — One more new candidate for alderman in the First ward and the reversed decision of Matt Clark, incumbent, to seek reelection for alderman in the Second ward, brought to 25 the list of candidates seeking 11 offices in the April 2 election, according to the nomination papers filed up to 6 o'clock last night. The legal deadline for filing was 12 o'clock midnight.

D. B. Egan, 117 E. Washington street, was the last new candidate to appear for alderman in the First ward to oppose A. A. Trambauer and Ervin Huntley. It is his first attempt at public office. Papers for alderman in the Third ward were taken out by Walter Fredrick but had not been filed up to 6 o'clock yesterday.

Every post will be strongly contested at the polls with the exception of city clerk, treasurer and school commissioner.

Candidate List
Following is the list of candidates: For mayor, Francis A. Werner, M. H. McDonnell, Lynn Springmire.

For city attorney, Giles H. Putnam, incumbent, Ormond W. Casper.

For city assessor, E. C. Oestreich, incumbent, Page Dexter, Emil Gerdes.

City Clerk Mrs. J. C. Freeman and City Treasurer L. M. Wright will be unopposed.

First ward alderman, A. A. Trambauer, Ervin Huntley, D. B. Egan.

Second ward, Matt Clark, incumbent, G. O. Krueger, Jay Joubert.

Third ward, Edward Kringle, John Yost.

Fourth ward, Otto Stern, incumbent, Henry Fisher.

Fifth ward, William Behm, incumbent, August Behn, Louis Kurszyski.

School commissioners at large, Dr. C. E. Hammerberg and Louis Schmalenberg, unopposed.

Lutheran Parochial

Pupils on Vacation

New London — Pupils of Emanuel Lutheran parochial school are the first to enjoy the annual Easter vacation since their school closed Monday and will not reopen until next Tuesday morning, according to B. H. Boese, principal.

The Most Precious Blood Catholic school will close Wednesday noon and reopen Tuesday morning. Public schools will close with the completion of classes Thursday afternoon and resume schedules Tuesday morning.

At Washington high school, a 2-reel motion picture on banking, "Your Money and Mine," will be shown during the regular assembly program in the auditorium Thursday afternoon. The film is provided by the Wisconsin Bankers association under the auspices of the New London First State Bank.

New London Church to Show Motion Picture

New London — A talking motion picture on the passion of Christ, "Thine is the Kingdom," will be shown at the First Congregational church at 8 o'clock Friday evening. It was announced yesterday by the Rev. H. P. Rektad, pastor.

Stereopticon slides illustrating the story of the passion will be shown by the Rev. Mr. Rektad at the monthly fellowship supper at the church at 6:30 Wednesday evening. The committee in charge of the supper is Mrs. Lee Talady, Mrs. Roy Runnels, Miss Ida Vergowe and Mrs. Kate Wines.

Quarry Bowlers Drop Three Games To Trailing Team

Mike's Garagemen Trim Leaders in Hortonville-Medina Circuit

Hortonville-Medina League
Standings
Hodgins Quarry 19 W. L.
Byrons Lunch 17 10
Chev Garage 10 17
Mike's Garage 8 19

New London — A 212 line and 547 total by Ken Hodgins in the Hortonville-Medina loop topped all league scores at Prah's alleys last night.

However, the leading Quarrymen dropped three games to the trailing Mike's Garagemen, the latter paced by Chet Nelson with 181 and 487. Byrons took two from the Chev's.

The Cedar Lawn Dairies took the leading Mike's Taverners for three games last night, the Post Office giving up three to the Ford Tractors. For the Dairyman, Luke Thomas whacked 202 and 547. Len Trambauer 214 and 523. Len Hoffman led the Fords with a 541 total.

K. C. League
The Crusaders and Explorers remained deadlocked in a tie when the former won two games from the Conquerors and the latter took two from the Voyagers. The losing quints produced the best scores, Red Smith clipping 205 and 540 for the Voyagers and Tony Herres 198 and 523 for the Conquerors.

Lions Club League
The Tamers beat out the Roarers for first place by taking them two games. The Twisters won two from the trailing Growlers. Erv Smith cracked top series of 538 with lines of 191 and 193 for the winners, and H. Kellogg top single of 199 for the losers. Harry Allen kegled a 186 game.

Girls Match Game
At 9 o'clock tonight the powerful Miller High Life girls team of Appleton will roll against the Sports-men's Taverners of Bear Creek, members of the Tavern league. At 7 o'clock the County Classic matches will feature the two home teams, Knapstein Brews and Miller High Life, against each other.

Port of Houston Gets Warning of Sabotage
Houston, Tex. — (AP) — The port of Houston has been advised of reported attempts at sabotage in South American nitrate ports.

S. A. Dunlap, chairman of the port committee cooperating with the British Ministry of Shipping, said the ministry had issued a warning that "enemy agents" attempted to place time bombs in ships calling at some South American ports.

The Houston port police and Houston steamship agents and companies were notified.

Stop for Arterials

The girl rose, picked up her coat and sauntered out of the room. Then the Sergeant whispered a few words to Kincaid. Apparently he wasn't going to jail him on Miss Welles' accusation, because the young man left the shop. And just then Ishi appeared in the doorway from the back of the house.

"Oh, there you are," the Sergeant said to him. "How long have you been away from the shop?"

"One week," the Jap told him. "When did you find out that Miss Kent was dead?"

"Tonight, Sergeant, when I made my return to the shop."

Then the Sergeant questioned him as to the details of his trip home and his father's illness, but the boy didn't say anything of importance. I watched him carefully while he talked, exploding the theory that all Orientals look alike. He wasn't as short as I imagined most Japs to be, topping me by a good three inches, and I'm pretty tall. While the Sergeant questioned him, his intelligent dark eyes darted back and forth between the Sergeant and me, and he smiled continually.

Even when he talked the corners of his mouth turned upward in more of a leer than a smile.

After a short conversation the Sergeant dismissed him, and Ishi, before returning to the back of the house, bowed elaborately, first to me, then to Dirk and Richard, and then to the Sergeant. We all smiled except Richard. We all leaning back in the chair, smoking a moody expression on his face and the thin hand holding his cigarette twitched nervously.

There was something wrong, I thought. Of course, he must feel pretty awful about his sister, but there seemed to be more than that. I wondered if perhaps he knew something about the murder even though he had been away from the house at the time.

She seemed almost peaceful in the shop after that day's excitement, yet when the telephone rang on Mr. Kimball's desk we all jumped nervously.

"For you, Sergeant," Mr. Kimball said after a moment.

No one even pretended not to listen, but the Sergeant held a thoroughly unsatisfactory conversation as far as we were concerned for the first minute or two. His answers consisted of monosyllables and a series of short exclamations.

Then his voice arose. "Dead!" he shouted. "I'll be right down. He hung up the receiver. 'Now we're getting somewhere,' he said with such obvious satisfaction that I was shocked. 'We've got Lathrop at last. He's in the hospital, suffering from shock and exposure. He was taken there sometime after midnight last night. Guess you were right about the drain pipe, Kloff. He must have fallen down the side of the house from Miss Kent's window.'

"Who died?" I asked, suddenly remembering his telephone conversation.

"No one. His wife is dangerous, and he was found half-drowned in the East River. Lathrop must have tried to kill her too," he paused. "Thought she knew too least two other people heard something around midnight."

Kincaid up to this time had been standing quietly by the desk. Now he stepped forward, his eyes on Adrienne Wells. "You may as well tell them," he said. "There's no use trying to hide it."

Sergeant Long rubbed his hands together and nodded with a satisfied air. "That's better. So you two met up last night. What time and where?"

The girl sat motionless, her lips drawn in a thin line, fury in her dark eyes.

Harry Kincaid cleared his throat. "After I came out of Miss Howard's apartment," he said, "Adrienne came downstairs from the third floor."

"Yes, yes, go on."

"We had a few words together and then I left the house."

"More than a few words," the Sergeant barked. "Mrs. Evans heard you clear up in the attic."

"Well, we were having sort of an argument," he didn't want to talk. His eyes sought the Sergeant's miserably.

Unexpectedly the girl leaned forward. "We were quarreling because he'd promised to take me out the evening before and never showed up. And when I caught him hanging around Joan Kent's apartment I told him what I thought of him." She jumped to her feet, her face distorted with rage.

"If you want to know what I think, I'll tell you," she went on in a shrill voice. "I think he killed Joan Kent. He couldn't have her for himself and he didn't want anyone else to get her."

She dropped back into the chair and burst into tears.

Slowly Sergeant Long rose to his feet. No one moved or spoke. "If everyone had told the truth in the beginning," he said in a controlled voice, "it would have saved all this confusion."

He turned to the girl suddenly. "What was Whitefield doing while you were with Mr. Kincaid in the hall?"

She raised her head and with her small lace handkerchief dried her eyes. "Working."

"And he heard none of this?" She shrugged her shoulders. "I guess not."

"Do you remember telling me you were going to the movies late this afternoon?" he said harshly. "Instead of that you went to Tenth Street to someone's apartment?"

She took a compact from her purse and powdered her nose in a remarkably self-possessed manner. "Is there a law against that?"

The officer stared at her. "There's a law against a lot of things you don't seem to know about. Go upstairs now. I'll speak to you later."
